Vol. 24, No. 4 | DELIVERED EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING | Wednesday, Jan. 28, 1970

THIS IS ONE of the more serious accidents that kept Daly City police on the run in last week's rainstorm which drenched the area and caused several "fender-bender" auto accidents. Sandra Ann Fleck, 18, 565 Barbara Way, Hillsborough, suffered possible internal injuries when the car she was driving skidded onto a median strip on Alemany, sheared off a concrete light pole and smashed into an overpass. The car was demolished. (Post Photo)

JEFF ELEMENTARY DISTRICT

Caught In Economic Web

By FRANK LaPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

The Jefferson Elementary School District is caught in a perplexing web of economic developments that can only be described as "unique," in the light of today's nationwide population explosion.

The developments that have plunged the district into sort of "growth inertia" stem from these facts:

—The district has witnessed a substantial decline in enrollment figures in the past two years.

—A 20-acre parcel of land acquired in 1964 has been prepared for a seventh and eighth grade school facility, but remains barren because the district cannot qualify for state aid building assistance due to low enrollment.

—Although $704,000 has been set aside in cash from the sale of bonds, it is oot enough to drop out of the state aid building program and go it alone on the school.

And if these frustrations were not enough, the district cannot sell any more of the $3 million bond issue approved by voters in 1966 because interest rates have topped the five per cent maximum limits.

Superintendent Frank Greenwood made a five-year projection of school requirements shortly after his arrival in the district in September of 1965. It indicated the district would need more facilities to house students two years ago if enrollment continued at the same pace.

Instead of soaring, student enrollment fell off. Average attendance in 1968 was 10,242. This year's enrollment dropped below the 10,000 mark.

Under the state building assistance program the district does not have the required number of students to qualify for another facility, or even expansion of present school buildings.

With $1,448,000 in unsold bonds still on its hands, the district frankly doesn't know which way to turn, Greenwood explained.

Since the five per cent bond interest ceiling has already been topped (interest rates at present exceed 6 percent) the only way the money can be raised for completion of the William J. Savage School is to go

Coast Plan Disputed At LAFCO Meet

Mayor Nick Gust of Pacifica asserted January 21 that merging the North Coast County Water District with the city would save about $110,000 a year.

The claim was disputed by other speakers who appeared before the Local Agency Formation Commission at a public hearing in Redwood City.

After listening to arguments for and against the city's proposal to take over the district, the commission continued the hearing until February 18 to give time for closer study of the various claims and counterclaims.

The continuation means that there is now no chance of getting the matter on the April 14 city election ballot, as Gust wanted. The next possibility would be the June 2 primary election ballot.

Discussions about the city taking over the district have been going on in Pacifica for more than a decade. They have increased in intensity since April of 1968 when Gust made an official proposal. Last year he ran for the district board on a merger platform and was defeated.

Deputy District Attorney L. M. Summey told the commission last week that an actual merger is not possible because the boundaries of the district and the city are not the same. They could be made identical through annexation, however, Summey said, or the water district could be made a subsidiary

San Bruno Rapport

Funds For Improvement Of Teen Center Given

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

Rapport was evident Monday night between San Bruno councilmen and teen-age representative Mike Sharkey concerning operation of the newly opened Teen Center.

So much so, in fact, that the councilmen agreed to allocate "in the neighborhood of" $250 to meet an eight-item request for "capital improvements" within the center.

There had been rumors of discontent. If so it wasn't obvious Monday night.

City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer said he had met with teen-age representatives, and that they had told him that now that exams were out of the way "they expect to get the ball rolling" toward an official grand opening.

The city manager recommended that the councilmen approve the youths request. "Looking at the whole package of $10,000 already spent, another $250 to insure a good operation isn't that much of a problem," said Vergeer.

Councilmen concurred, with the exception of two items, one of those they ruled out was taken care of by another group, the other merely modified.

The teen-agers' list included curtains, a bulletin board, four card tables, an eight-foot table, a ping-pong table, waste baskets, a hot plate and a telephone.

The two items ruled out by the councilmen were the hot plate and the telephone.

When Sharkey explained that the reason for the hot plate was to provide a means of heating water for coffee or hot chocolate, he received several offers of assistance.

Councilman Maury Hamilton said possibly that the council could work something out to get a "hot drink" machine installed.

Fellow councilman Karney Barberian suggested instead that he would talk to his Rotary Club about donating an electrical unit.

The accepted offer came from Frank Wheless, 290 Poplar Avenue, whose WWI veterans organization had just been assured that their annual fourth of July carnival concession at the city park had been reinstated this year.

After promising to come to the aid of the teens, Wheless turned of Councilman Barberian and said, jokingly, "I'm sure Councilman Barberian will take this (having the vets rather than the Rotary supply the unit) in his stride."

On the issue of the telephone, councilmen felt that installation of a pay telephone would cause fewer problems than a regular phone.

Councilman George Corey said the matter of a regular phone being installed, with a limited dialing range, had been discussed. Councilmen however, felt it would be too difficult for the phone company to set up such a specialized system.

Sharkey did not appear upset with the pay phone substitute. He graciously thanked the councilman and Wheless' group for their actions, saying, "It looks like we are over the hump."

A Delay In Broadmoor's LAFCO Bid

Another postponement — the last — was granted by the Local Agency Formation Commission January 21 in the Broadmoor incorporation matter.

Proponents of incorporation have been seeking a waiver of the requirement that there be a one-year waiting period between incorporation attempts. A request for an election on incorporation was denied by the commission last June.

Quentin Kopp, attorney for the Broadmoor Property Owners' Association, told the commission in December that, unless the waiver were granted, the people there would be "left hanging on the vine" until next June. Members of the commission, however, told him that the waiver would not be granted in the absence of some compelling new information. A postponement was granted until the January meeting and Kopp said he would produce the required new data.

The commission was told last week, however, that Kopp needs more time.

Cab Driver Is Slain; 'Zodiac' Tie Probed

A Jarman Passenger Once Claimed, 'I Am Zodiac'

Two weeks ago a man climbed into the rear of Charles Jarman's cab in downtown San Francisco and told him to drive to a Haight-Ashbury address. En route he quietly informed the Daly City cabdriver, "I'm the Zodiac killer."

Today Jarman is dead. He was shot in the back of the head by an unknown assailant on a darkened San Francisco street Saturday night.

James Jarman, the victim's older brother, told The Post shortly after his brother's death Monday that Charles had dismissed the "Zodiac" passenger as "just some guy joking."

But the similarities between Jarman's murder and the gun slaying of another Yellow Cab Company driver last October 11, only nine blocks from the scene of Saturday's brutal killing are striking and homicide inspectors are not dismissing any possibilities at this time.

Inspectors William Armstrong and Dave Toschi said nothing positive has come up yet tying the two shootings together, but on the other hand "nothing proves (Zodiac) isn't involved."

Shortly before last Thanksgiving a man claiming to be the Zodiac killer called a local television talk show that attorney Melvin Belli was on and insisted on a meeting with him during a series of rambling, almost incoherent phone calls.

The caller threatened to shoot a busload of schoolchildren and pleaded with Belli for help "before I kill again."

Belli showed up at the arranged time and place — a used goods store on Mission Street in Daly City. The caller who purported to be the confessed killer of nine persons in the Bay Area never showed up.

Jarman died at 4:30 p.m. yesterday at Mission Emergency Hospital without regaining consciousness. Doctors had battled to save his life and had decided against attempting surgery to remove the bullet lodged in his brain.

Ironically, the victim was scheduled to leave the cabdriving job he had held for the past six weeks and was preparing to go to work for a warehousing firm on the Peninsula next week.

James said his brother "could handle himself pretty well" and had been a special security agent for a San Francisco-based alarm company for the past five years.

"I know he made many burglary arrests during those years," James said.

In an effort to get a better education while he could, Jarman had recently enrolled at San Mateo College.

He leaves a wife, Isabel, who is eight months pregnant, and a 4½-year-old daughter.

S. Bruno Pair Save Two Patrolmen

A young San Bruno couple were credited with heroism early Sunday after they rescued two California Highway Patrol officers at the scene of a fiery crash on Bayshore Freeway at International Airport.

The officers, both of whom suffered burns and other injuries, remained in Peninsula Hospital today. The victims, Donald E. Osterman, 31, and Ben Lis, 29, were reported in satisfactory condition.

Given credit for saving the officers from worse injury, and possibly death, were Adolph E.

S.S.F. Education

Foreign Students 'Need Not Worry'

Cuts in the South San Francisco Unified School District budget, resulting in the curtailing of the district's adult education program, has also created concern that some foreign-born students may be deported. More than 150 students were involved.

According to E. A. McFadden, deputy district director of the San Francisco Immigration and Naturalization Service, these students need not worry.

Alvaro Bettucchi, principal of South San Francisco's Adult School, has given assurance, too, that arrangements have been made to continue the education of these foreign-born students not a resident of South San Francisco's school district.

This, incidentally, is the crux of the problem. Because of budget cuts, totaling an estimated $50,000 for the adult program, the trustees established the policy that only residents of the district could attend classes.

In yesterday's Times, School District Superintendent Paul Nielsen denied reports that the district is trying to kill the adult education program by involving a "resident-only" requirement."

Non-residents are required to obtain an inter-district agreement slip, a permit that says the district in which they reside will pay their fees for attendance at South San Francisco's adult school.

This hovers near the impossible, as most district's have their own financial difficulties without paying another district for someone's education. Therefore, the other alternative for the non-resident student is to attend classes within his district.

If, however, this particular individual's district does not offer the same course or courses obtainable, say as those at South San Francisco, the student is simply out of luck. Unless of course his dis-

Doing Job, Yet:

Merchants In San Bruno Criticize Parking Control

Cheeze! Seems as though nowadays some guys get criticized for doing a proper job.

San Bruno's newly hired parking control officer, Charles F. Aubuchon, is in that position.

One of his main functions is to make sure people obey the time limits on the posted parking signs.

This he's been doing. Aubuchon has been so effective he's giving some merchants paranoia. They think he must pop up out of the concrete the instant a parking limitation expires.

The merchants have taken their grief to Chamber of Commerce Manager Kit Menkin, who Monday night sought assistance from the councilmen.

"I'm asking for some help on this," said Menkin. "I don't know who to turn to."

According to Menkin, he's not asking for any special favors for any certain individuals. Only that the man with the ticket book be a little more liberal.

He told of an incident the other day when it was raining and a parking lot was not full. However, those parked in the lot over the specified time limit were ticketed. Another instance was of a trucker, supposedly working in the area, being ticketed for overparking.

"There's a need for the parking control officer to know the circumstances," said Menkin.

But the councilmen felt that as long as the streets are posted, Aubuchon can't be criticized for doing his job. Remarked one, "he's damned if he does, and damned if he doesn't!"

Police Chief Russell Cunningham came to the aid of his new man, too. In a letter, read by City Manager Gerard Vergeer, the chief did some critizing of the constant changing parking policies desired by the Chamber of Commerce.

He indicated that all the police want to know is what parking policy to follow.

The chamber in the past has asked that on certain occasions

Barberian Announces He'll Seek Re-election To Council

One of San Bruno's city officials—Councilman Karney Barberian—has announced that he intends to seek re-election. Mayor Neil Christal and Councilman George Ingham's terms also expire.

In a brief statement, Barberian said that his platform would be "Let's finish the job." The councilman indicated that a more complete statement would be made after filing.

"All the parts are falling into place in San Bruno," he said, pointing to the Pan American commissary, the Tanforan Shopping Center, two large "Woodlake-type" apartment projects, and the fact that Freeway route 380 is ahead of schedule.

"All of these, and others, will provide a more rounded city tax base to relieve the homeowner," said Barberian. "I have been instrumental in every phase of making it possible. San Bruno is moving forward on the right track and I want to make sure it is not derailed."

Toby In S.S.F. Council Race

Ed Toby, South San Francisco businessman declared his candidacy for the city council of South San Francisco Sunday afternoon.

The announcement was made to a gathering of his supporters at the home of Gene Aiello, former South San Francisco city manager and co-chairman of his campaign.

Toby said his decision to run was based on "the inability and refusal of the city council to study and act on problems facing the city. It is a poor testimonial to local government," he said, "when the issues and problems I will be speaking to are virtually the same ones that were talked about at election time two and even four years ago.

"If we are to solve the critical regional problems of garbage, pollution, and transportation, the officials of South San Francisco must be willing and able to work with officials from adjoining cities and counties. Instead, we have 'self interest' politics on the part of the city council which has limited our communications with local county officials. On just one joint city-county project — the cross town extension road — petty bickering resulted in delays which will cost the taxpayers almost twice the original estimate with no significant change in the original plans," said Toby.

THE COST OF GETTING LOCKED OUT IS HIKED

Assistance from San Bruno firemen for aid in getting into a locked house will now cost the resident $10 instead of $5.

Councilmen Monday night adopted an ordinance amending the city code titled "Assisting Persons Locked Out of Their Property."

Actually the new ordinance sets a maximum fee of $20. City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer felt a $10 minimum cost at this point in time would be sufficient.

Vergeer said a report he had from Fire Chief Herbert Freitas indicates that costs for helping residents getting locked out of their homes averages $15.

Deportation Feared In Budget Cuts

trict picks up this course of study, or he physically moves into South San Francisco's District.

Luckily, for some five classes of foreign-born students who are non-residents of the South San Francisco School District, the Jefferson Union High School District of Daly City has come to the rescue.

Bettucchi told The Times that five such classes have been picked up by the Jefferson adult school program. The Jefferson Union High School District adult program, incidentally, does not contain a residency requirement other than the student being over the age of 18. The district policy, however, also does not allow for the issuance of inter-district transfers. A check with the San Mateo High School District finds that they do not take them either.

Interestingly enough, according to Bettucchi, under the "foreign-born" program, where foreign students are issued visas for the purpose of furthering their education, anyone under the age of 21 are assumed to be residents of the district in which they are attending school. Only those over this age of consent seem to be hurting.

The decree went out from the South San Francisco School Board on December 15, but apparently the realization (for all schools) didn't strike home until this past semester was nearing its end.

Full impact of the possible deportation situation was felt to some extent at the San Francisco Immigration and Naturalization office. McFadden said the office received several calls, plus "quite a few who came around" and asked for approval of transfers to other schools. These were granted.

"Some even asked us to intercede with the school board," said McFadden. "Of course we have no intention of doing that. We do give students the opportunity to enroll in another school."

The immigration official added that the only time his organization would take any action to enforce anyone's departure would be if the student would quit school; went to work without permission; or got into trouble that would affect the student status.

One of the most vociferous objectors to the South San Francisco School Board's action has been Frank Derfield, representative of the South San Francisco Adult School's Teachers' Association.

Derfield says that many teachers may be without jobs as a result of the cutback in adult programs; also that there will not be the wide selection of classes; and that some students working for diplomas may not be able to complete their course of study because other districts may not offer the necessary courses.

Realizing many of these problems also, Bettucchi said he intends to write a letter to the county superintendent of schools to see if an adult education program couldn't be worked out on the county level, so students could attend the program of their choice.

Meanwhile many South San Francisco adult school students (pardon, former-South San Francisco adult school students) will continue to fuss. And like it or not, an adult program, acknowledged as the most comprehensive in the country, is suffering.

San Bruno Needs Place For Pupils

San Bruno Park School District is in a quandary as to what to do to relocate children uprooted from the North Brae School because of Interstate 380 by-passing the area.

Trustees Monday night studied several alternatives at a special study session. The concept that seemed most probable to them was a proposal to use the old Belle Air Fire Station.

Councilmen, in their regular meeting Monday night, indicated they would be agreeable to opening the station for that purpose.

They authorized City Manager Gerald Vergeer to work out a suitable arrangement with the school district so that city items presently stored in the fire station could be stored in North Brae School buildings, which will remain standing.

School trustees, however, made no immediate decision on the matter. It possibly will come up at their next regular board meeting.

Young San Bruno Couple Is Credited With Saving Two Patrolmen At Accident

Vogele Jr., 26, and his wife, Mary Jane, 24, of 660 First Avenue, San Bruno. Both were injured in the crash and Vogele suffered burns during the rescue.

Blamed for the accident was Kenneth Ivan Hale, 39, an airlines engineer from Running Springs, Calif. Hale, who barely escaped with his own life, was booked at County Jail on a felony drunk driving charge.

Patrolman Maurice Harnigan and Richard Robbins gave this account:

Mrs. Vogele was driving north on the freeway at 2:50 a.m. when Osterman and Lis stopped her car a mile north of Millbrae Avenue for speeding. Mrs. Vogele stopped her sedan on the east shoulder and the patrol car pulled up directly behind and parked.

About five minutes later the officers were standing near the right front of their car, writing the citation, when Osterman saw Hale's car, which was doing about 60 miles an hour in the next to the outside lane, suddenly veer to the right and head for them on the shoulder. Osterman barely had time to shout a warning before the patrol car was hit.

Both officers were knocked sprawling. Osterman crawled back to the patrol car, climbed inside and was using his radio to call for help when the auto burst into flames. The gas tank on the black and white car had been ruptured and sparks from Hale's auto had ignited the fire. Osterman apparently saved himself by climbing out the left front window.

Hale, who had apparently been knocked unconscious, came to when the flames burst around him and managed to get out of his car and run to safety.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Vogele, who had remained in their car, got out and found both officers dazed and injured. Mrs. Vogele grabbed Osterman and pulled him up the shoulder away from the fire. Vogele, to get to Lis, ran between the two burning autos and in doing so his clothes caught afire. He beat out the flames, grabbed Lis and led him away from the fire.

Both officers were lying on their backs on the shoulder and were being attended by the Vogeles when Hannigan and Robbins arrived on the scene.

"The Vogeles' quick actions were instrumental in saving Officers Osterman and Lis from further injury, if not death," Hannigan and Robbins said.

Patrol Sgt. Edward Laine gave the couple credit for "an outstanding job."

district of the city, with the city council instead of an independently elected board running the district.

Gust said a staff study had revealed many areas of duplication — involving such matters as auditing, legal advice, purchasing and engineering — that could be eliminated through a merger. The $110,000 savings figure was developed by the staff, he said.

Tom Jenkins, attorney for the district, said the decision should be based on what is in the "best interests" of the community rather than on whether any duplication exists.

Russell F. Conroy, district president, charged that "the city has consistently demonstrated an inability to operate in a businesslike manner."

City Councilman Harland A. Minshew asserted that Gust's motive "is to get district revenues to help the city operating fund." Instead of a merger, he urged the commission to consider formation of a county-wide water service.

Apartment Is Damaged

A Pacifica apartment was damaged extensively Saturday, when an overstuffed chair near a wall heater caught fire.

Firemen said one wall of apartment 6 at 511 Lewis Lane was damaged in the 1:55 p.m. blaze, while heat and smoke damaged the contents of the living room.

A monetary estimate of the damage was not available from firemen.

on certain streets the "no parking" policy not be in effect.

Matter-of-fact Menkin asked the councilmen Monday night that the regulation be lifted on the 400, 500, and 600 block of San Mateo Avenue February 21 because of a special "Washington's Birthday sale.

Mayor Neil Christal said he could sympathize with the chamber, but also had to agree with the police chief. "The council will work with and assist the chamber," said Christal. "But it will not set up a policy. You set up a parking policy you like, and we'll review it."

Councilman George Corey volunteered to meet with members of the chamber's parking committee to see if something can be worked out.

A Night Out? San Bruno Has A Choice

Friday night poses a loyalty problem for San Bruno's city councilmen.

It is the established meeting night of the San Mateo County mayors, and normally San Bruno is well represented at these meetings.

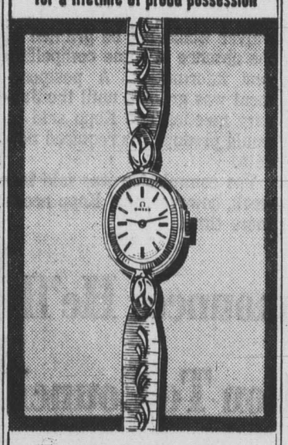

But this Friday, well, it also happens to be San Bruno Night at the Cow Palace. The San Francisco Warriors will be playing the Phoenix Suns, and the councilmen, along with any other interested party, can get good seats at reduced rates. The money goes toward support of youth programs in San Bruno.

T.N. Student Body Elects New Staff

TERRA NOVANS have elected the following students as their Spring Student Body Officers:

President, Bud Gonzalez; Vice President, Lowell James; Secretary, Vickie Rainsford; Treasurer, Mike Chavez.

Commissioner of Clubs, Margie Kingshill; commissioner of publicity, Kathy Racanelli; commissioner of rallies and assemblies, Toni Racanelli; commissioner of athletics, Ed Dellarocca; commissioner of student control and safety, Linda Hughes; Terra Nova planning council, Bruce Patterson and Frank Strzalkowski.

Students listened to each candidate's campaign promises at an assembly on January 21, then voted the next day. If campaign promises are kept, we can expect to have a cleaner, happier, and better organized campus the coming semester.

EARLY DISMISSAL is back! Two years ago Terra Nova's policy was a thirty minute earlier dismissal on Friday if the grounds were kept clean. The principal (then Dr. Tonini) and other school administrators would inspect the cafeteria and grounds every day, and if they felt the school was clean enough, early dismissal was granted.

In actuality, the 30 minutes only shortened each period by five minutes, yet, it had a kind of psychological effect on the student body — the thought of getting out earlier made the day seem to go faster.

Early dismissal days were happy days for students and teachers alike, and also kept the campus clean, but now is making its comeback after two years, in a slightly updated form. Now a committee of faculty members and students will inspect the halls, bathrooms, stairways, courtyards, cafeteria, and back of the gym and award daily points to each area.

At the end of the week, the points will be totaled and the average must be at least four points to win an early dismissal.

The policy will hopefully discourage sloppy TN students and provide an incentive for keeping their campus clean.

THE CLASS of 1970 is making big plans for their Senior Ball, to be held at the Cabana Hotel in Palo Alto on April 17. They'll set a precedent by being the first senior class to hold a dinner-dance for their Ball. Seniors will dance (and possibly eat) to the strains of Jimmy Diamond and his Orchestra.

Ticket prices have not yet been set, but Joe George, senior class advisor, assured the class that the whirlwind evening of dining and dancing will be reasonably priced.

Bruno Man Hospitalized

A three-car accident, which sent one car spinning on its roof on January 20 in San Bruno, hospitalized a 36 - year - old San Bruno man.

Joseph Aaron Glazer, of 2970 Fleetwood Dr., was reported in Peninsula Hosp tal, Burlingame.

Glazer was involved in an accident at El Camino Real and Sneath Lane at approximately 9 a.m. His car, thrown into the air, landed spinning on its top.

Dolores Clara Merrille, 40, of 800 El Camino Real, No. 6, South San Francisco, driver of a second car, was treated for a scalp injury and released from the hospital.

Driver of the third vehicle, Coral Jean Gueterslob, 27, of 2365 Erin Place, South San Francisco, was uninjured.

According to the police report, Glazer was traveling east on Sneath Lane and the Merrille vehicle was going south on El Camino Real. The Gueterslob was going north on El Camino.

Police said Glazer was passing through the intersection when his vehicle was struck on the left side by Merrille's car. Both vehicles spun around several times and Glazer's car, a small foreign model, hit the left turn signal and knocked it down. Meanwhile Merrille's vehicle had struck the Gueterslob car.

6 Shots Fired At Bandit Duo

Two men — one armed, "calm and cool," robbed a Pacifica foodstore of an undetermined amount of cash Friday, fleeing in the manager's car as another employe fired six shots at them through the store's windows.

None of the shots hit their mark, and the suspects in the robbery of the Brentwood Market, located in the Manor Plaza Shopping Center, escaped.

The bandits met head clerk Charles Reed at the door of the large market shortly after 7 a.m., forcing him and a cleanup man, at the point of a 38 caliber pistol, into the store.

However, the duo were told by Reed that only the manager could open the safe, so they waited.

Pacifica Police Detective Richard Hillman said one of the employes was forced to lie down; the other to sit.

They had to wait about 20 minutes before the manager, Ernie Gibson arrived, but in the meantime one of the robbers drank a bottle of beer, while his accomplice consumed a can of a prepared mixed drink, Hillman said.

Getting "about $500" the suspects sat the employes in a south corner of the store, and bound their hands behind them with adhesive tape.

They took the manager's car keys, then fled the scene in Gibson's car, a 1965 Ford. But, they didn't go far — merely around the block, to a point directly behind the foodstore, Hillman pointed out.

Produce Manager Bill Sherwood freed himself quickly and, as the suspects started to drive off, fired six shots from a two-inch, 38-caliber revolver.

Sherwood did his shooting through the plate-glass windows on the east side of the store front of the market.

Police had issued immediately an all-points bulletin on the two suspects, both white — one described as short, "calm and cool," and armed; the other of medium height and appearing "nervous," and roadblocks were established.

However, the discovery a short time later of the manager's car, brought cancellation of those actions.

Police found the car engine still running, but there was no sight of the suspects.

Authorities said they did not know whether the suspects had a getaway car parked behind the store or ran after abandoning the vehicle.

One police spokesman indicated that an area liquor store manager had heard the reports from Sherwood's revolver and got in his car to check, driving past the area where the foodstore manager's car was found.

Indicating he was less than 30 seconds behind the suspects at that point, the men said he had not seen anything unusual.

Fire Damages S.S.F. Garage

A smokey fire heavily damaged a South San Francisco garage Monday afternoon, but firemen battling the stubborn blaze managed to save a boat and motorcycle stored inside.

The fire broke out at 3:26 p.m. at 629 Myrtle Street while the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Duncan, were away.

Firemen quickly controlled the blaze and pulled the contents out before they could be destroyed, the fire department said.

Daly City Boy Hurt In Hit, Run Accident

A Colma youth was arrested Thursday on felony hit and run charges after the car he was driving allegedly struck and critically injured a 16-year-old pedestrian in Daly City.

The victim, identified as Daniel Chomorro, 16, of 117 San Diego Avenue, Daly City, was reported in fair condition at Mary's Help Hospital following emergency surgery.

Young Chomorro suffered massive head and face injuries and severed tendons in his right hand. He has already lost the use of his hand and may have to undergo further surgery, according to reports.

Arrested by Broadmoor and Daly City police was Rigoberto Gomez Mendoza, 18, of 1524 Bryant Street.

Police said the suspect at first denied he had recovered the vehicle already.

Mendoza said the car was taken about 7:00 p.m. while he was shopping at the market.

The accident occurred at the corner of San Jose and Wilson Streets shortly after 10 p.m. as the victim was crossing the street.

Witnesses said the Mendoza car was turning from Wilson Street onto San Jose and smashed into Chomorro. The driver got out of the car, stared at the bleeding victim for a few seconds and sped off into the darkness.

While he was walking around wondering what to do next he happened across the "lost" car.

Later, Mendoza changed his story and allegedly told police he was the driver that hit the boy, police said.

Investigators found traces of flesh, blood and bone stuck to the car's front undercarriage and technicians were expected to check the car closer today.

SERIES CONTINUES

The third in a series of "luncheons and games" will be held by the Ursuline Guild of St. John's High School February 3, at 11:30 a.m.

San Bruno Defendant Denies Slaying

Mother Testifies She 'Knows' Suspect Didn't Do It

"I know he didn't do it," Mrs. Robert Nielson said of her husband, who is accused of molesting and murdering her 3-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Paulette Nielson, 24, was the last witness called by defense lawyer Harlan Veal on Friday before he rested his case in the tenth day of Nielsons's murder trial in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge Robert F. Kane.

Rebuttal testimony is scheduled for Monday and the case is expected to go to the jury of eight men and four women Tuesday or Wednesday.

The state contends that Nielson, who was living with the child's mother in San Bruno but was not married to her at that time, molested little Yvonne (Chrissie) Santino last July 1 and then drowned her in the bathtub to cover up the crime. A prosecution witness, Dr. Peter A. Benson, a county pathologist, testified that there was physical evidence that the child had been molested. The cause of death, he said, was drowning.

A defense pathologist, Dr. Stuart Lindsay of San Mateo, testified, however, that in his opinion there was no evidence of sexual molestation. And the cause of death was not drowning, Dr. Lindsay told the jury. The girl choked to death on some spaghetti, he said.

Nielson told the jury that he had left the child unattended in the bathtub while he went shopping and did a few errands. When he returned 50 minutes later, he said, he found er face down in the bathtub. He telephoned for help and was giving mouth to mouth resuscitation when firemen arrived.

Nielson, 34-year-old airline utility employe, denied that he had molested the girl or killed her. He told the jury he felt ashamed because he had left her alone in the apartment.

Mrs. Nielson, who married the defndant in Reno a week after the little girl's death, was asked by Veal to describe her sex life. She said it was "very gratifying, satisfactory."

Veal then asked if anything had occurred during the trial to cause her to change her mind about loving Nielson.

"No, I know he didn't do it," she replied in a breaking voice.

Didn't Molest Tot, Nielson Tells Court

Robert D. Nielson Jr., on trial for his life, took the witness stand Thursday and denied emphatically that he molested and murdered his wife's 3-year-old daughter.

Nielson, 34-year-old airline ramp service man, is accused of drowning little Yvonne Christine (Chrissie) Santino in a bathtub in a desperate but futile attempt to hide the molestation.

Defense attorney Harlan Veal was doing the questioning:

"Bob, at any time on July 1, or at any other time before that, did you ever sexually molest in any way little Chrissie?"

"Absolutely not," the defendant answered.

"Did you ever kill or murder little Chrissie?"

"No, certainly not."

Deputy District Attorney William Larsen was scheduled to start cross-examination today.

It is alleged that the sexual assault and killing occurred last July 1 while Nielson was babysitting. Nielson and the victim's mother, Paulette Santino, 24, were married in Reno a week later.

Under questioning by Veal in the court of Judge Robert Kane, Nielson said that he and Mrs. Santino started living together in an apartment at 356 East San Bruno Avenue in San Bruno last February.

"Did you become attached to the baby?" Veal asked.

"Yes, quite a bit."

"Did she become attached to you?"

"Yes."

Veal asked about the relationship.

"Just as . . . just as father and daughter," the defendant replied. "She was just like my own baby."

For awhile, Nielson testified, they hired a baby sitter but decided they could not afford it. Because Mrs. Nielson, who worked as a data process operator, and he worked different shifts, they took turns caring for the child, he said. Mrs. Nielson was at work on the fateful day.

Nielson told the jury of elght men and four women how he prepared a bubble bath for Chrissie and put some plastic toys in the tub—a coffee scoop, boat, Mickey Mouse and sugar scoop. Then, he said, "I told her to just sit still and get nice and clean with her washcloth."

The defendant said he drove downtown, cashed a check at a bank and shopped in a hardware store and grocery. He estimated he was gone 30 minutes. Nielson said he did some chores around the apartment house, for about 20 minutes more, before going back into the apartment. Veal asked him to describe the scene.

"I saw our little baby lying face down in the bathtub," the defendant said. "I remember pulling her out of the bathtub and holding her upside down.

Nielson said he spanked her on the back, then started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. He carried her to the phone and continued to try to revive her while calling the operator, he said. He was still bent over the still form, trying to restore breathing, when firemen arrived. When he learned that she was dead, Nielson told the jury, "it hit me pretty hard."

He admitted that he told police at first that he had not left the child alone in the apartment.

"I felt so bad about leaving her I didn't want to admit it," he explained.

Teachers Send Letter On Salaries

Members of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association have drafted a letter to Superintendent Frank Greenwood welcoming the opportunity to arbitrate their salary dispute.

Joan Hemphill, president of the JCTA, said "The members present unanimously authorized the negotiating council to proceed with arbitration with some modifications of the board's proposal."

The teachers also stipulated that the matter should be completely resolved by February 21 so they would be ready to proceed with the 1970-71 negotiations.

In the letter to Greenwood, Mrs. Hemphill proposed that the question (of arbitration) be "what is the agreement between the Jefferson Elementary School District and the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association regarding salaries to be paid to teachers during the 1969-70 school year."

A further proposal was that before the matter go into arbitration by the American Arbitration Association there be "an agreed set of budget figures which shall be the only figures used in the arbitration."

These figures would be jointly developed by the district's business manager, Roger Barthuli, and James Sutton, financial consultant and California Teachers Association Bay Section staff member.

JCTA membership also proposed that the cost of arbitration be shared equally. Greenwood had suggested that the losing party pay the cost of arbitration.

"We feel we owe it to the children to make every effort to obtain the monies rightfully due teachers without taking measures that would affect the learning process," said Mrs. Hemphill.

"Also that it was the intent of the superintendent last spring to grant a competitive raise when and if the money became available. And that no reasonable person would consider a 4 per cent raise adequate when the Bay Ara average raise was 8 per cent."

Cafeterias Show Profit

All of the Jefferson Union High School District cafeterias made a profit, up to December 31, 1969, according to figures released last week.

Once red ink was spotted throughout reports to trustees, but in recent months, since a number of changes in the over-all program were made early last year, the individual high school cafeterias have eliminated their deficits.

Net profit summary: Jefferson, $699; Westmoor $1,408; Oceana, $752; Terra Nova, $1406; Serramonte $2410.

Bookkeeping Improvement

A. O. Belotz of the firm of Belotz and Bate, Auditors, has reported to Jefferson Union High School District trustees in Daly City that "there is a definite improvement in the maintaining of the district's books and records over the past year."

In submitting the firm's audit report, Belotz stated:

"Many of our suggestions and recommendations have been acted upon, from the last audit, and we have made several recommendations to your staff accountant and business manager for this year; but not of sufficient importance as to be itemized in this report."

Citizens' Committee Names Chairman

Dr. Tom Kilpatrick Thursday was named chairman of a new Jefferson Elementary School District body calling itself the Citizens Committee on School Philosophy.

The committee—charged with reviewing and making recommendations on philosophy and objectives of education in the Daly City district—was appointed by the Jefferson Council of P-TA's at the urging of the district Board of Trustees.

Represented on the new unit are citizens of varied backgrounds in the community.

At its first meeting, a session that lasted three hours, Albert Jenkin was elected vice chairman by about 26 members of the 37-member citizens committee.

A Westmoor High School junior, Rosie Guillen, one of the student members of the group, was named recording secretary.

Mrs. Jean Markovich, president of the P-TA council, presided over most of the meeting, until the committee named its permanent officers late in the evening, following discussion, in large and small groups alike, of a "working copy" of a temporary statement of philosophy and broad educational objectives prepared last year by the district's administrative group.

Teachers' organizations in the district also are reviewing and developing a statement on philosophy, and are expected to report in mid-February, according to Dr. Vinton Stratton, associate superintendent for instruction, a member of the committee.

The committee will meet at 7 p.m. tomorrow at 101 Lincoln.

Summer Foreign Program Drive

The Summer Foreign Exchange Student Program at El Camino High School is now making plans to raise $2,000 to send two students to Europe in July and August of this year.

All eleventh grade students, who had studied two years of a foreign language in high school, were eligible to apply. At the end of last year the applicants were interviewed and rated by the Community School Screening Committee.

The members of this committee were: Mrs. Charles Bloom, Mr. Malcolm Kohn, Miss Pauline Elzas, Mr. Robert Maldonado, Mrs. Thomas Banning and Tom Graf, El Camino's foreign exchange student in 1969.

The judges came up with a tie for first place, so Barbara Badham and David Jones are both applying to the Experiment in International Living for a place in the outbound ambassador program. Barbara hopes to go to Spain and David to Austria.

Barbara and David, along with Gloria Rodriguez, the student body Foreign Exchange Commissioner and Mrs. Banning, the faculty advisor, hope to raise enough money to send both students. If this is impossible, then the decision as to whether Barbara goes to Spain or David to Austria will be up to the head office of the Experiment in International Living in Putney, Vermont.

Plans are under way to reactivate the South San Francisco Community Foreign Exchange Committee to aid in collecting money for this most worthwhile program. Already the P-TA at El Camino High School is planning to earn money by showing a movie in the Little Theatre at the school.

Mrs. Sheldon Blank, the president of the P-TA, has ordered the film, Born Free, which will be shown at 3 p.m. on March 20.

The donation for attending this 90-minute film will be 50 cents. This will be the eighth summer that El Camino High School has participated in the Experiment for International Living.

Service Project By Skyline Jr. Girl Scout Unit

Junior Girl Scout Troop 1769, sponsored by the Skyline School P-TA in Serramonte, has recently completed a rewarding service project.

In December, under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Gonzalez, who is assisted by Mrs. Cirilo Espinosa and Mrs. Pientro Polo, the troop visited the Nancy Nutting Nursing Home for Exceptional Children in SSF.

The girls brought used clothing that they had collected, stuffed toys and tree ornaments they had made, plus many other items kindly donated by individuals and businesses in the area.

In January, a trip to the San Mateo County Historical Museum on the CSM campus is planned by the troop, to acquaint them with their area's heritage and continuing history.

GOOD MORNING, GOOD COOKS.

Not only am I always on the lookout for new cooking and baking ideas to enjoy and share with you good cooks, so are many other people. Just recently my friend Anne Ward sent me this new recipe for making a dreamy cake. Dreamy not only describes the cake, it's called Dream Cake.

DREAM CAKE

1 package Yellow, White or Devil's Food Cake Mix
1 envelope Dream Whip Whipped Topping Mix
4 Eggs
1 cup water
(Bake 350-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes.)

In a large mixing bowl combine the package cake mix, the whipped topping mix right from the envelope, the four eggs and the cup of water. Using your electric mixer blend until moistened. Beat at medium speed for 4 minutes. Pour into a greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted into center of cake comes out clean. Cool in pan for 15 minutes.

Loosen from sides and center tube with knife and gently remove cake. Finish cooling on rack.

YOU MAY FROST the cake with any type of frosting that appeals to you and yours. It's so light and delicious that sifting of powdered sugar was all that was required for our taste.

You may notice that I'm printing the temperature and baking time along with the list of ingredients. It's hoped that by placing it there and repeating it in the method we'll avoid mistakes that have to be corrected thusly—

CORRECTION: Buttermilk Coffee Ring. Bake 350-degree for 50 to 60 minutes.

A good neighbor gave me this recipe, it's very easy to prepare and makes an impressive vegetable to serve for guests, and for your own darlings, of course.

SUPER SPINACH BAKE

2 packages frozen chopped spinach, thawed
1 pint sour cream
2 can cream of potato soup, undiluted
salt and pepper to taste
Parmesan cheese
(Bake 350-degrees 45 minutes to one hour.)

Allow the two packages spinach to thaw in a good strainer until soft, lightly press out the water. Combine the pint sour cream with the two cans undiluted cream of potato soup and fold in the drained spinach. Add salt and pepper to taste. Butter a large flat baking dish, pour in the creamed spinach, sprinkle generously with Parmesan cheese.

Bake in 350-degree oven 45 to 60 minutes. Serves 8 generously.

THIS COOKIE RECIPE came from Valda Schaefer and a note on the side of the recipe read, "They are ultra-delicious, with a flavor that is not ordinary."

That note had a quick and sure effect. I rushed in the kitchen, flicked on the oven, gathered up the ingredients and started mixing and fixing.

She was right.

GINGER AND ALMOND DROPS

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 unbeaten egg
1½ cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup raisins
3 tablespoons finely chopped candied ginger
½ cup slivered blanched almonds
(Bake 375 degrees 12 to 15 minutes)

Before you start mixing the cookies cut the candied ginger into very small pieces. The kitchen shears do a fine job. The reason I emphasize small pieces is because candied ginger is very hot to the taste and little bitty pieces gives the flavor without the heat.

Cream the half cup butter well, work in the cup sugar gradually. Add the unbeaten egg and mix well. Sift together the 1½ cups flour, half teaspoon baking powder and fourth teaspoon salt. (Reserve about a fourth cup to flour the fruit and nuts.) Add the flour to the creamed mixture.

Combine the half cup raisins, three tablespoons chopped ginger and half cup slivered almonds, add the reserved flour and mix. Add to the cookie dough and mix vigerously.

Drop by teaspoon onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in 375 degree oven 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Makes about three dozen.

IS YOUR KITCHEN an oasis of quiet as you cook? Or is it like mine? Reminiscent of the restaurant scene from "Hello Dolly!" If this is the case take a tip from me. Always gather all the ingredients of your recipe and place them where you need them before you start mixing your recipe. With everything in front of you, you won't leave out some vital ingredient of your favorite dish.

THE MARQUEE

'Geese' Divided Into Camps

Carol Doda, for better or worse, has been added to the "Geese" nest at the Encore Theater. The show was pretty terrible when it opened five months ago and hasn't improved much since being gimmicked up by casting the Queen of Topless and the King of the Female Impersonators, Charles Pierce. But it has helped box office.

The oddity of the casting puts a different light on the show. Now you get the best of two nightclub acts, some very pleasant songs with a rock trio playing both on and off stage, more nudity than "Oh, Calcutta" and "Hair" combined, and two diverting one-act plays that sound much worse with weak actors than they would with more polished performers.

The show is a straight drama in New York but local producers Phil Oesterman and Jim Sink have considerably reworked Gus Weill's treatise on homosexuality into a plea for universal love and understanding. Strobe lights, rear projections, loose hanging chiffon togas on the nude 15-member company who dispense live daisies into the audience, have turned it into a happening.

But you still have the feeling, most of the audience is there to see Miss Doda (certainly not to hear her because her wispery, inexpressive voice doesn't travel further than the front row and her long blonde hair hangs across half of her face anyway) and the always-entertaining Pierce, a dominant performer on any stage.

"GEESE," THE FIRST PLAY about lesbians retains Joan Schumacher as the tired, unfulfilled mother who hopes the friend her daughter is bringing from New York is a potential fiance. It turns out to be roommate Doda in black leather mini-skirt, black leather boots and dangling chain belt. Merle McDill is excellent as the syrupy schoolteacher who harbors a secret crush on her former pupil Candi Thornell. But she's forced to overextend her stay on stage with a final, unnecessarily emotional outburst of song. She and the play would be better served to get her off sooner. Fleming Thomson as the ineffectual father who is more concerned with his standards of valor than his daughter's happiness, is convincing.

When it comes right down to it, Pierce is the best part of the whole evening. He plays the disillusioned mother in the second play, "Parents and Children," with pomp and sarcasm. While he's nagging at husband Paul Schumacher, their son is having an affair with a fraternity brother in the adjacent bedroom.

MISS DODA IS BEING EXPLOITED for her extraordinary physical attributes. She's a sweet, feminine girl who should stick with that image. It's impossible to accept her (or hear her) as a butch lesbian. She'd do well in a comedy, a Goldie Hawn-Marilyn Monroe-Jean Harlow image.

'Help, Don't Boss' Child, Teachers Say

The Daly City Girl Scout Association meeting Thursday featured Miss Julie Jansen and Rudi Tretley, counselors from Jefferson High, speaking on Daly City — past, today, and a bit into the future.

Keynote of the discussion was the fact that today's bay area children and San Mateo face a growing, fast-moving multi-language and cultural environment, where colors, hues and tongues will be increasingly mixed.

Since minor children outnumber adults in the area, they are more increasingly apt to tell adults or "do their own thing," it was asserted.

This young power needs to be involved in the adult world, the counselors said, and not shunted off with "you're just a child," because today's child is more knowledgeable and sophisticated than were past children, living in a society structured differently from that of America's past.

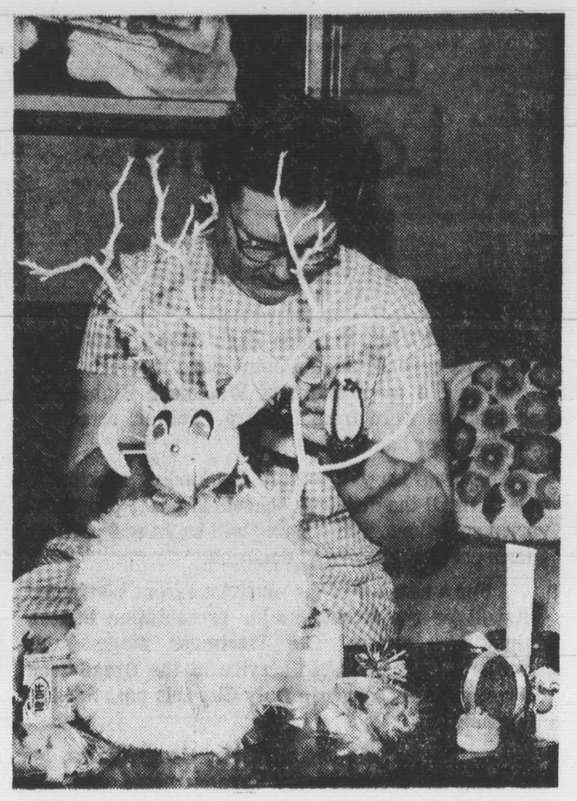

Teachers and adults must change to helpmate rather than bossism.

Area announcements include:

Sports Day — February 7 — a trophy will be awarded to competition winners.

Thinking Day — a pause for thought Feb. 22 for Scouts and Guides world-wide.

Girl Scout Cookie sale, February 27 thru March — Cookies provide camping and troop funds. Camping includes non-scouts who otherwise would not have a chance to escape the city to the out-of-doors.

CRAFTS SESSION — Mrs. Nancy Thomas prepares crafts items that she will use in the February 4, 9 a.m. crafts training program for Daly City Girl Scout Association leaders. The second such session, it will be held in the Broadmoor Community Center. (Post Photo)

Bike Rodeo — Cadette troops, Ben Franklin School, March 14.

Girl Scout Sunday, March 15 — Contact Carol Noonan to participate with Our Lady of Mercy troops in friendship — Girl Scout Sunday.

"Bridges in the Past, Present and Future" — Scout-A-Whirl, Oakland Coliseum, either April 18 or 19. Tickets will be 50 cents, with children under five, free.

Camporees in the Spring, May, Huddardt Park — One for Cadettes and one for Juniors. A Brownie Revel, hostessed by Seniors, at Junipero Serra Park.

15 Westmoor Students To Study Abroad

THE POST'S Family Forum

Westmoor students will again have the chance to study at a university abroad for six weeks under the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS) program.

Their destination being Tokyo, Japan, 50 students will leave San Francisco on July 9, and return August 16. A month and a half will be spent at a university, at which they will be instructed about the culture of the Japanese people. Students will get a chance to see Japan for themselves, and observe their environment following the course.

Chaperones will include Mrs. Winifred Washburn, teacher at Westmoor and a two-year veteran of the AIFS program. Commenting on the forthcoming trip, she expressed her feelings on the program. "Each student must act as an ambassador of the United States," she added, "it is such an enjoyable experience for the kids that we have had students who have gone on three or more trips in a row." Costs of the trips vary with each specific location, but the trip to Japan costs around $1,100.

Of the 50 students going to Japan, 15 will be from Westmoor. Any interested student is eligible, but juniors are preferred.

In the past years, students have been sent to universities at Santiago, Spain; Paris, France; Leningrad, U.S.S.R.; London, England; Jerusalem, Israel; Rome, Italy; and Mt. Kenya, Kenya.

Coast Students To Be Lions Contest Speakers

Six Pacifica high school students will compete for the top award at the Pacifica Lions Club Student Speaker Contest at Nick's Rockaway Restaurant, February 3 at 7:30 p.m.

The topic of the contest is "'Generation Gap' — Fact or Fantasy?" Three students from Oceana High School and three from Terra Nova High School will participate. Ed Brownstone, Terra Nova speech coach, and Dean Christianson, Oceana speech coach, are assisting students in preparation for the contest.

Lion John Simmons is chairman of the local contest.

The winning student will receive an engraved trophy and earn the right to represent the Pacifica Lions Club at the Zone elimination contest.

Names of the participating students and the contest judges will be announced at the close of the contest.

California-Nevada, Multiple District Four, Lions International, is sponsoring the Student Speaker Program for the 33rd year. The top level of District competition makes a $2,000 scholarship available to the competing area winner.

Newlyweds Honeymoon In The Los Angeles Area

Honeymooning in Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dorfmeier (Nancy Ann Salas) who were married Saturday afternoon at All Souls Catholic Church in South San Francisco. The Rev. Eugene Gallagher officiated.

Nancy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Salas of South San Francisco, walked down the aisle with her father. Douglas is the son of Mrs. Austin J. Christy of St. Helena.

Three attendants preceded Nancy in the processional, and Marlene Mullan acted as maid of honor. Sandy Cochran and Judy Bryant were the bridesmaids. They all wore royal blue velvet gowns with green ribbon trim and carried accenting bouquets of powder blue carnations.

Nancy's gown was a floor-length white velvet design with a matching train and a shoulder - length veil. She carried baby rosebuds.

After a reception at Morelos Hall, the new matron changed into a white dress and coat for traveling.

AFS Exchange Program Told

The Home Placement Committee of American Field Service is now interviewing Pacifica families interested in having a foreign high school student live in their home as a part of their family group and attend high school during the 1970-71 fall-spring terms.

Mrs. H. L. Dryden, chairman of this A.F.S. committee, said the prospective young man or woman student will be 16 to 17 years of age and ready for the senior year in high school.

He will have been chosen because selection committees here and abroad saw in him the qualities of adaptability, open-mindedness, and eagerness to learn. His personality and his intelligence should make the experience a rewarding one both for himself and for those whom he comes in contact.

The local family's responsibilities would be to provide affection, care, guidance and discipline, food and lodging.

Persons interested in applying or wanting more information should contact Mrs. Dryden who lives at 1219 Sheila Lane, Pacifica.

The president of the local A.F.S. Chapter, Mrs. James Brien, also will answer questions. Her address is 845 Lisa Court.

The American Field Service is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization which, through its international scholarship programs at the secondary school level, endeavors to bring about understanding among people of many nations by providing a new dimension in the living and learning experiences of teenage students, Mrs. Dryden said.

The student, through involvement in a U.S. family, school and community, may gain an understanding of the United States, its people, educational system, customs, and ideals, and spread this understanding among his family and friends in future years after he returns home, she said.

Also, he may bring an understanding of his own country to his American school companions, teachers, family, and friends while he is here, Mrs. Dryden added.

Rites At Millbrae Parish

Standards of white roses banked the altar of St. Dunstan's Catholic Church in Millbrae Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Donna Rose Traverso and Emmet Brophy.

The Rev. David Caron officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Traverso of South San Francisco and the son of Merle Brophy of Millbrae and the late Mrs. Brophy. After a reception at the Sons of Italy Hall in San Francisco, the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to southern California.

Donna, who walked to the altar with her father, wore a white linen gown with jeweled beading on the high neckline and cuffs. Her bouquet was made of white roses with silver sprays.

Six attendants gowned in kelly green Empire gowns preceded her to the altar. They wore poinsettias in their hair and carried white muffs.

Janice Marie Caron was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Sandra Cardinale, Carol Frediani, Kathy Senkir, Rilla and Margaret Brophy, sisters of the benedict.

Carole Delfino, the flower girl, was dressed in a kelly green frock and carried a basket of holly.

Ronald Frediani assumed the duties of best man, and guests were seated by Mike Messina, Ron Davis, Joseph Carol, Fred Dal Broi and Albert Traverso, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Traverso took her place in the receiving line in a lime green dress and jacket with a beaded collar. For traveling, the new matron changed into a gray and white knit dress and jacket with red accessories.

They will live in South San Francisco.

William J. Savage School: Jefferson's White Elephant

back to the voters for an entirely "new" package.

The Attorney General has ruled a vote of the people to lift the lid on the interest rates, and not the entire bond issue, would be illegal.

And with the current mood of the voters, school officials feel the bonds would be voted down.

If voters did vote a new issue, allowing a higher interest rate and sufficient funds to build the school, the present cash could be put to use in modernizing certain facilities within the district, according to Greenwood.

In 1966 $715,000 of the series "C" bonds were sold (reportedly to the Bank of America) for slightly less than 5 per cent.

Of this amount, $704,000 was invested in banks drawing an annual rate of 7.2 per cent and $11,000 was used for slope improvements at school sites in the district.

But the school district still owes $11 million to the state and the difference between the cash in bank, money used for slope improvements, and unsold bonds, was used toward paying off this outstanding State debt.

Acquisition of the Savage School site was authorized in 1961 — before Greenwood's arrival in the district — and purchased under an earlier bond issue.

Whether desired or not, the district finds itself in the real estate business, owners of a 20-acre parcel of valuable property in an area that has already been developed with stores, hospital, medical buildings, homes and apartments.

But what the district needs most is missing — elementary-age school children.

The William J. (Doc) Savage school has been labeled a "White elephant" by many parents in the community since its purchase.

Located between the Cabrillo Freeway, St. Francis Boulevard and Southgate Avenue, the large, level expanse of land was once a deep gully.

It was a hazardous canyon that attracted drainage every time it rained, and children every time the weather was clear.

Some residents found it provided an ideal spot to dump everything from trash to shopping carts, adding to the hazard.

The site was, school district officials felt at the time, ideally suited for a seventh and eighth grade facility.

Acquisition of the property was made in three separate purchases, largest of which was made from the Suburban Realty Company in July, 1964 ($547,540); Zita Corporation in June, 1964 ($35,270.50) and; Stolte Inc., also in June, 1964 ($244,952).

Other property was filled along with the school site, which eventually was graded to some 15 usable acres from the 20.967-acre site purchased.

The area was originally earmarked for a 14.7-acre site by school engineers, but was revised on June 6, 1966 by school architect Angus McSweeney.

Work on filling the canyon was begun in earnest when E. V. Schulhauser & Associates, Inc., of San Francisco, was named by the district as site engineer and a specifications map, dated February 16, 1966 was drawn up. Bids were advertised shortly thereafter.

Only one bid was received by the Jefferson District — from the Sunset Grading and Equipment Company. It was accepted in June, 1966 by the district's Board of Trustees.

The Sunset Grading Company, owned by site engineer Schulhauser, sub-leased earthmoving equipment from Arthur "Buzz" Haskins and the task of preparing the site went into full swing.

Daily the giant earthmoving equipment could be seen at work at the bottom of the gully, cutting and transporting fill material from outside the canyon area to the site. In all, some 492,000 cubic yards of "imported" fill was consumed by the project.

In order to fill the school site, surrounding property owned by Haskins (four lots) and Suburban Realty (two lots), plus lands adjacent to Mary's Help Hospital, had to be filled.

The imported fill material was brought into the area from Serramonte over the privately-owned lots to the school site. Although these lots had to be improved along with the school acreage, it was felt by engineers involved that this was the safest and most economical method of improving the school property.

Only one other opening — two lots on St. Francis Boulevard — allowed egress to the site and this would necessitate using surrounding city streets for the movement of earth by huge vehicles.

The cost of the barren school site as it sits today is about $86,000 per useable acre, while the over-all cost of the site amounts to some $62,000 per acre, using the previous cited figures and the total costs of acquisition and improvement of the school site.

On the other hand, the Jefferson Union High School district purchased a 54-acre site nearby (which boiled down to 37 acres after grading) for the sum of $2,747,472 improved.

This package included filling, grading, lights, curbs, gutters and streets. The obstacles were similar in improving this site (deep ravine, etc.) but under the "package deal" offered the district the cost was far below that paid for the elementary school site.

A breakdown of the high school property reveals an approximate cost of $51,000 per acre was paid.

Aside from the cost factor, the main differences between the two districts is simply the fact that the high school has been built, while the elementary school plans are gathering dust.

Wastewater Study Is Authorized

Specific means of meeting new objectives of wastewater treatment and disposal at the South San Francisco-San Bruno Wastewater Treatment Works will be studied by Jenks and Adamson, consulting sanitary and civil engineers.

South San Francisco councilmen okayed the feasibility study after receiving a detailed letter on the wastewater disposal situation from John H. Jenks. A copy of the letter also was sent to San Bruno officials.

"While there is no critical problem at this time," said Jenks, "It must be recognized that the plant cannot meet the new objectives of the Regional Water Quality Control Board and of the Federal Pollution Control Administration."

The new objectives contain specific requirements as to color, dissolved oxygen and toxicity content.

Regional Water Quality Control Board requirements also call for a report on, and time schedule for, constructing facilities needed when flows reach 80 per cent of capacity. Flows are now at 80 per cent of the plant's design capacity.

Possibilities of constructing outrail lines for deep water discharge also must be studied.

The South San Francisco-San Bruno plant was built in 1963. It has, according to Jenks, "provided outstanding service and is today performing well above design objectives.

Jenks, however, pointed out that the plant is scheduled to be updated within the next few months. He said also that federal aid may be possible if the city can show that it intends to meet a "second treatment" requirement, part of the federal Water Quality Control Act of 1965.

NORTH COUNTY contestants for the 1970 Miss San Mateo County-Miss America Pageant admire the queen's robe as modeled Deborah Henley, the reigning Miss San Mateo County. Pictured left to right are Bonnie MacBird, Miss Industrial City; Caroline Rickenbacher, Miss Daly City; Miss Henley; Denise Liebert, Miss South San Francisco, and Kim Hobson, Miss San Bruno. Contestants are still being accepted for the pageant which will be presented March 14th at the Hillsdale High School in San Mateo. Interested persons should contact the Miss San Mateo County Pageant, P.O. Box 5250, San Mateo.

S.S.F. Ponders Disposal Costs

Before South San Francisco officials consider any more possibilities on a garbage incinerator for the city, they want to find out what other cities intend to do about garbage.

This decision was reached by the councilmen after receipt of a letter from R. A. McBride, president of Water and Air Pollution Control Equipment, Inc. (WAPCE). The headquarters are in Escondido, Calif.

McBride proposed that preliminary engineering site work, estimated to cost approximately $15,000, be started on a 400-ton-a-day incinerator plant to get a firm estimate of actual cost.

He said that the preliminary work would be deducted from the cost of the final project, "and will actually permit us to reduce contingencies in our price."

The price, incidentally, is based on a 109,000-ton-a-year guarantee by the city, over a 30-year period.

According to McBride, financing and construction cost would be approximately $6 to $6.25 per ton.

"We propose to finance this plant by the First Mid America Company, a member of the New York Stock Exchange," said McBride. "It will take approximately two years from the signing of the contract to complete this plant."

The incinerator would be a "straight" incinerator as designed by Von Roll, and without facilities to manufacture steam. "We intend to burn all the sewage sludge," said McBride.

The plant is guaranteed to meet all the local codes, and all requirements of the Bay Area Pollution Control Board. It also would be enclosed in a building suitable to the buildings of the surrounding areas.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli said he wanted to hold off on the proposal and "talk this thing (garbage problem) out" with the county board of supervisors.

The mayor instructed the city manager to write a letter to the board for a possible meeting. He said he wanted to know within 60 days what the county intends to do. Actually, the matter is scheduled to come up at the next meeting of the County Council of Mayors.

"We'll find out what they intend to do," said Bertucelli. "Then we're going to look out for the city of South San Francisco."

Councilmen agreed and Councilman Andrew Rocca added, "Incineration is going to be the answer in the end."

Mechanic Arrested

A 23-year-old auto mechanic was arrested at his Daly City home early Wesnesday morning on $1,404 in outstanding traffic warrants.

Ernest Salinas Jr., was booked into city jail on the multiple charges by officer Louis Donati after he was found asleep at his home at 581 Villa Street.

Salinas has accumulated the traffic tags in Daly City, San Francisco, Burlingame, Brisbane, and South San Francisco during the past year—everything from parking tickets to driving with a suspended license.

Woman Hurt In Accident

A San Francisco woman suffered a broken left leg Wednesday night when she was hit by a car while crossing a street near the Cow Palace in Daly City.

Estelle Bisbbe, 26, of 1867 Sunnydale Avenue, was struck by a car driven by Roberto Sanchez, 30, of 1792 Adams Street, San Mateo.

Sanchez was driving eastbound on Geneva Avenue near Rio Verde Street about 10:20 p.m. and told police he did not see the victim until it was too late.

14 Year Old Slips, Falls Over DC Cliff

A 14-year-old Daly City boy suffered a fractured arm Saturday attempting to halt his slippery descent down a rain-soaked cliff.

Daly City firemen said Scott Bradfield of 472 Skyline Drive took advantage of the first no-rain day to hike, with another 14 year old, the cliff that overlooks the ocean behind Northridge Park, at 4:44 p.m.

Bradfield slipped and began sliding down the cliff.

Battalion Chief Mel Hansen said the youngster fractured his left arm, between the wrist and the elbow. He was flailing his arms around, in an attempt to grab any object that might stop his descent.

An outcropping, 30 or 40 yards down the cliff and about 10 yards above the old Coast Highway roadbed, stopped him.

Bradfield's companion went for help, but it was some 30 minutes before firemen could be contacted and respond, Hansen pointed out.

Hansen explained that the boy had not fallen down the steepest part of the cliff and, as a result, was able to some extent to "control his speed going down."

Fireman Frank Martorana took first aid material down to young Bradfield, then fireman Bob Hourigan followed with splints. Together, they got the boy into a basket and the cable to which is was attached was winched up.

Saturday's mishap is not of an unusual nature, Hansen explained.

"We have eight or ten kids, or more, every year out there. It's fenced, but the kids tear holes in the fence or dig holes under it."

Flash Fire In Pacifica

A flash fire, started apparently when a flammable liquid was ignited by the flame of a water heater, caused manor damage to the garage of the Sam Katoa residence at 535 Heathcliff in Pacifica Thursday.

Firemen in Pacifica said a member of the family — there are seven — was walking out the door to go to work at 10:45 p.m., when he noticed smoke pouring from out of the attached garage.

He tried to "attack" it, but unsuccessfully, and an attempt to call firemen on the telephone was hampered for a while, because flames had damaged phone lines.

However, a fire department spokesman explained, an operator was able to "lock in" on the instrument and notify firemen.

The garage ceiling was damaged slightly, and there was some blistering to the kitchen wall.

Collapses At Home Of Friends

Joseph Pagano, 52, of 657 Newman Street, South San Francisco, was pronounced dead on arrival at Mills Hospital after collapsing at a home of friends in San Mateo Friday the coroner's office reported.

He had been under a doctor's care. Surviving is his wife, Mary. Funeral services will be held from the Larson Garden Chapel in South San Francisco.

Officer In Serious Condition

A 23-year-old San Bruno Security Patrol officer is reported in serious condition today at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, after being struck on the head with an extension wrench.

Officer Tom Mariscola received a concussion, and other possible injuries, at approximately 5 a.m. today while investigating an open door at 222 San Bruno Avenue East.

San Bruno police said the security officer had put out a radio call for assistance, saying he had found a service area door open.

"Apparently he went in to investigate," said San Bruno Sgt. Jim Rego. "Officer Terrence Johnson found him lying face down in the service area. He was semiconscious, and had been struck on the head, apparently with a 3-foot extension wrench."

The wrench, along with the victim's flashlight, was found nearby in a bathroom, where police theorize the assailant probably was hiding.

Police said the victim was unable to describe his assailant. The building and area were searched. Nothing was taken, police said. But the door apparently had been pried open.

TV STOLEN

A television set and a hand gun were reported taken from the apartment of Lawrence C. Ankers, 125 San Marco Avenue, San Bruno, during the day Thursday.

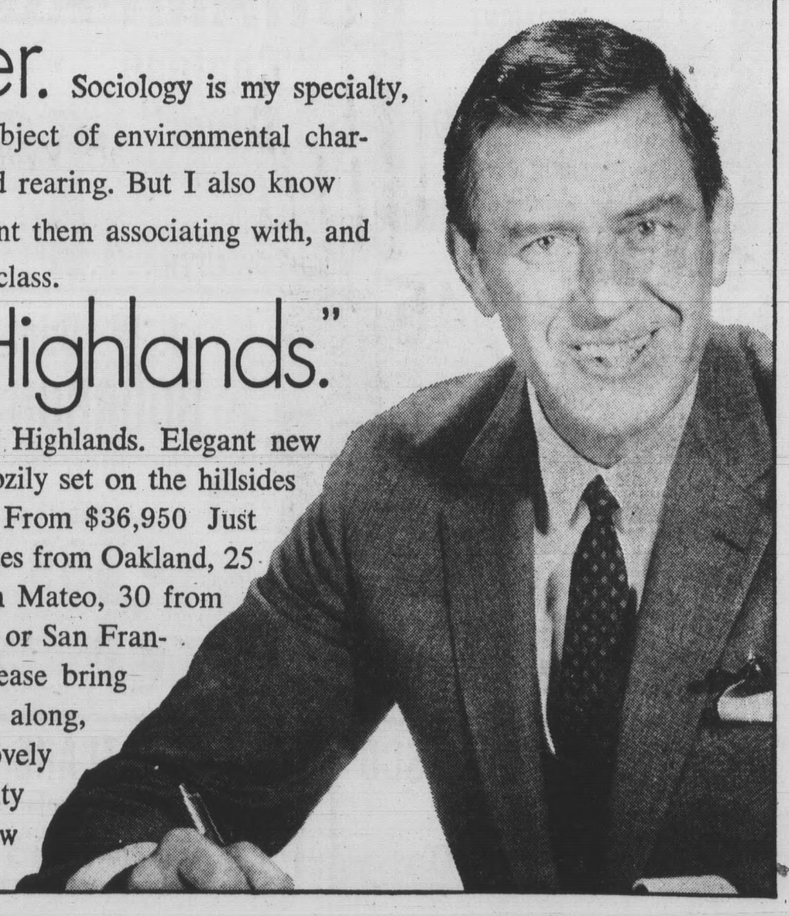

Police said there was no sign of forced entry. No other valuables were taken. Loss of the two items was valued at $430.

ALL THAT TONGUE CLICKING in the North County over San Francisco putting Eldridge Cleaver's "Soul on Ice" and LeRoi Jones' "Dutchman" on their high school library shelves doesn't make sense to us.

The reason? Both literary selections (choke, gag) have been on the shelves at Oceana, Jefferson and Westmoor for some time, for use in conjunction with the Black Studies' programs.

Matter-of-fact the books have never been taken off the shelves even in the face of verbal threats made by State Superintendent of Education Max Rafferty . . . If the kids tell you they're too busy reading to watch the telly, Mon, why not peek over their shoulders?

REPEAT PERFORMANCE — Two candidates will step down shortly after taking out their papers to run in the Daly City council elections: McRobert Stewart confided to this column last month that he intended to resign his directorship with the Westlake Subdivisions Improvement Association and Dino Tonelli was heard to flatly state he would resign from the city Planning Commission.

WHAT'S GOING ON at the Daly City City Hall? In their latest employe bulletin an emergency call went out for large glass jugs or bottles. The containers are to be used in conjunction with this year's employee awards dinner and those who would like to donate same "contact the Personnel Department." We presume they mean "empty" jugs and bottles?

POLITICAL NOTES on a shabby cuff (and getting shabbier) — council candidate William J. Schumacher, up until last Saturday at 11 a.m. an attorney who shared the same offices and secretarial pool (not to mention the Executive Washroom) with Daly City City attorney Al Polonsky, has moved out of the building and into a new suite (No. 280) at 375 South Mayfair Avenue. There had been rumbles that he would move in with attorney and former muni judge Paul Hupf, but those have been squashed by our not mentioning it.

As an asidem to the aforementioned thing: Schumacher is also a trustee on the Jefferson Elementary School Board, having been elected to that position only last year.

SOME TALK AROUND that political candidates are warming up to their campaigns as the days drag on. Ferzample, one candidate who sidled up to this humble columnist during last Friday night's cioppino dinner at the Our Lady of Mercy parish hall said he had information that would rust the shining armour of one candidate that has been riding the council bench for some 16 years and recently started jousting with at least two fellow councilmen. It looks like it's going to be one of those Old Fashioned "mudslingers" in the April elections. At least it's off to a good start.

WHAT'S GOING ON? — Unless our hearing is failing us, four of the County's five Supervisors said flat out that they supported Brisbane in that tiny city's attempt to keep trucks from a nearby rock quarry off the streets. The talks were held at lunch in San Mateo city some three months ago and the supervisors said they would shelve the truck company's permit when it came up for renewal in December. They did not say "perhaps," "we'll study it," or any of that other doubletalk so necessaey in modern political circles. They simply agreed they would DO IT! But they haven't, and it now looks like the quarry will get a six months lease on life.

Point of this is: What can one believe these days? Four supervisors promised to back Brisbane with positive action, but the quarry still gets its permit. Supervisor Bob St. Clair told us to be patient when we chatted with him the other p.m.

AFTER THE TWO STORIES appeared in the Times (and today's Post) on the William Savage School site in St. Francis Heights, one school trustee said he'd be happy to unload the property at a profit.

Point in questions is: Who would get the money? Would the funds received be legally used to pay off the bonded indebtedness of the district? Our Source says it can't be done. The money would go back into the State Building Fund. Would this mean no school and no money? No thanks.

BUSY BUNCH — These San Bruno men are involved in the recent Emergency Operations Simulation Training exercise in the city's emergency operation center. # A Unique Disaster Clinic

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

San Bruno has just completed a unique civil defense disaster planning clinic, one that City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer says is "important and worthwhile" in the event of an emergency.

This Emergency's Operations Simulation Training (EOST) exercise is part of a federal Office of Civil Defense program developed to demonstrate and practice local emergency operations on a simulated basis.

The program in San Bruno recently was conducted in conjunction with the University of Southern California School of Public Administration's Institute for Civil Defense and Disaster Administration.

The first part of the week was spent in training sessions which outlined the internal operational procedures involved in the exercise.

Each exercise included, among other operational activities, fire, police, public works emergencies, shelter entry, nuclear attack, and the arrival of fallout.

The primary object of each exercise was to provide an opportunity for the departments concerned to function as a system under disaster conditions rather than as independent agencies.

Among the secondary objectives was development of trained simulators who could participate in subsequent exercises in the community.

The exercise was not meant as a test. It was performed inhopes that community leaders who participated or observed obtained valuable information about the capabilities of their disaster operational systems.

A critique followed the exercise. The participants identified systems operating problems and discussed ways in which they could deal with these problems.

The EOST program was developed for the Office of Civil Defense by the Systems Development Corporation (SDC) of Santa Monica. It is based upon studies conducted by the Stanford Research Institute, and training programs developed for the U.S. Air Force by Systems Development Corporation.

In 1966, SDC conducted pilot studies in Provo, Utah, and Oroville, through the county civil defense offices. Selection of cities and counties for invitation to participate in this program is made initially by the California Disaster Office.

Criteria for selection includes an emergency operations plan, a full time civil defense coordinator (or a plan to hire one), and an emergency operation center (already built or in he planning stages).

The University negotiates individually with the jurisdictions for final selection, and for the dates when the exercises will be held.

Four Key Election Issues

The 1970 elections are upon us. Campaigns are now taking form, and the underlying issues are emerging. Considered nationally, there are four principal areas: (1) the war; (2) ecology; (3) law and order; (4) the economy.

(1) The war:

The public now supports the President's program. Its continued backing no longer depends upon rhetoric, but upon his inexorable pursuit of announced intention. If he continues to succeed in Vietnamization of the war, his popularity will be favorably affected.

But in partisan politics, the effect is unusual. The Democrats fell apart over the war issue. Almost all of their differences in the past four years have been war connected. To the extent the President is successful with the war, his actions tend to heal the Democratic rift.

(2) Ecology:

Politicians of every size and shape have fallen upon environmental issues as electoral manna. The President proposes a "clean waters program", Governor Reagan a "clean air package", and Senator Gaylord Nelson a constitutional amendment guaranteeing a "decent environment". Members of both political parties are swamping legislative hoppers with anti-pollution measures.

The public good will doubtless be served by this verbal onslaught. But, considered in a partisan way, neither party is likely to gain a good deal over the other. Republicans have the benefit of a majority of the nation's executive positions and thus can more easily dominate the news but many Deomcrats have been connected with the conservation movement for a long period of time. The result of all of the hue and cry will probably be a check-off with neither side gaining or losing. The only way this could change is if one or the other party gives up on the issue and then that party would be badly hurt.

(3) Law and Order:

This issue began to move politics in the 1966 election and was a major factor in the 1968 campaigns. Because Democrats have been slow in isolating the radical left they have appeared softer on law and order than they really are.

Considered in a partisan manner, Republicans, having made great gains on this issue, will have to start reporting progress in the 1970 election and in subsequent elections as we go into the decade. The law and order issue still favors Republicans, but imbalance in their favor is diminishing.

(4) Economy:

In his State of the Union address, President Nixon demonstrated that $57 billion more was spent by the federal government in the '60's than it received by way of income. He equated this imbalance with the increase in the cost of living. Put in its simplest form, government debt equals increased cost of living for every voter.

The public has never really understood this; consequently, it has voted more for people who spend money than those who limit programs to funds available. But after the shocking 6 per cent cost of living increase in 1969 and other debilitating effects of inflation, it may be that the public is ready for the message. If so, the President's efforts to balance a budget and to halt the sweeping increase in prices will be politically popular.

Currently there is one subject before Congress that may serve to focus the issue. This is the $1.26 Billion increase in budget for federal aid to education and health care and research. Everyone likes education and favors health, and it is easy for spending types to denounce any savings in this field; however, should the President veto this bill and should Republicans unite in sustaining the veto, the big battle of the 1970 campaign would be plainly drawn.

Historically, the political dialogue about economics has been dull. Even the phraseology has been drab. Terms such as "fiscal responsibility" have hardly excited the public. It seems that in this election the issue can finally be plainly understood. Higher costs and higher taxes have really frightened today's voter. It may be that a successful joust with inflation will be the most meaningful event in the current election.

In politics, timing is everything. If stern measures are still needed in the fall, the economic issue may favor Democrats. But if the monster can be wrestled down by early summer, Republicans should enjoy a prosperous November.

'Horrors Are Very Real'

RODY AND MACARIO Beutista Leano, brothers from Colma, were serving with the Second Signal Group in Vietnam when they talked with a First Signal Brigade newspaper reporter about the stories they'd been told by their father, Roy Genuino Leano.

Leano, a resident of Sweetwood Drive, had told of his days as a prisoner of war in the Japanese camp on Bataan, and, the Long Binh story told how the brothers "proudly explain that he was a member of the group that was in the famous Bataan Death March of 1944.

Sp. 5 Conrad Clark put it: "The horrors of war are very real to two brothers now serving here . . . not because of their participation in battles, but because of the experiences related to them by their father."

The boys' father had escaped from the POW camp, later joined the Philippine native guerrilla forces that assisted the United States forces then fighting in other parts of the island.

Leon Leano, it was pointed out, retired in 1959 from the military after 20 years service.

The Leanos are natives of General Trias, Cavite, Philippine Islands, and they immigrated with the parents to Colma in 1957.

They wanted to serve in the services together and got their way early last year.

'The Will To Believe'

A YOUNG MAN came to my desk with a request: "I want a book about peace of mind. There is so much controversy about everything. How can I believe in anything?"

I referred him to "The Will to Believe"by William James — the psychologist and philosopher; one of the founders of pragmatism. In part four, James observes that there is no such thing as "philosophic neutrality." Lack of belief and inaction must count as action; and when not to be for is to be practically against."

Philosophic neutrality, he observes may lead to sheer folly. "The part of wisdom as well as courage is to believe what is in line with your needs for only by such belief is the need fulfilled."

IN OTHER WORDS, you can not believe in just nothing. You can not sit back and let the world go by. If you try, other men will form the principles that control your life. History demonstrates this — For example, the refusal of the German people to support their democratic government — although weak — led to the dictatorship of Adolph Hitler. Their inaction brought result that many did not lesire.

Speaking of one's personal beliefs, James writes, "If you surrender to the nightmare view and crown the evil edifice of your own suicide, you have indeed made a picture totally black. Pessimism, completed by your act, is true beyond a doubt, so far as your world goes. Your mistrust of life has removed itself to have had divining power."

James writes further. "These, then, are my last words — Be not afraid of life — Believe that life is worth living and your belief will create the fact."

A COPY OF WILLIAM JAMES' work may be obtained from your public library — Exerpts are found in many books — One of them is "American Issues" where the controversies that have stirred Americans are discussed by thinkers and observers who passed through them.

PAL In DC Needs Aid

By FRANK LAPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

There's an old saying that claims:

"A pal in need, is a pal indeed!"

Well the sad truth is Daly City's PAL program is indeed in desperate need of raising funds to continue its youth programs.

The Police Athletic League (PAL) for the first time in its local existence is about to go to the showers unless a donation-shy public comes to its financial rescue.

Daly City was the first in the state to organize a PAL program some 13 years ago, and has since watched some 5,000 youngsters doing their thing on the playing field—rather than on back streets.

The program started in 1957 with 150 boys and reached a high of 600 during 1961-62. Last year this figure dropped to 400 and in 1970 the number is expected to plummet even further.

Only five years ago, in 1965, the budget for PAL was $3,681. Today it is a mere $2,000 and this budget can only be achieved if the program gets help from the community at large.

"In the early days we netted $5,000 income from an annual bowling contest," police captain and PAL president Dave Hansen recalls. "Last year the same contest, same facility, same situation netted only $600."

PAL involves itself with teaching youths games. The sportsmanship of the playing field enhances the competitive spirit necessary for young boys to make it in this modern world, supporters of the league explain.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett and the city council apparently agree with this philosophy because in a proclamation issued this week the month of February has been designated as "PAL Month" in the city.

In his proclamation, the major pointed out the values of the program and urged citizens to support the organization in meeting their objective of helping youth adjust for the future.

Off-duty police and local citizens join in making the program work. It is completely non-profit and can be deductable on income taxes.

PAL's aim is to raise $10,000 this year which would allow them to pay for programmed activities and to budget for next year.

Without the cooperation of the public, however, this aim could miss the target and a lot of youths may turn away from the playing field to other fields of endeavor.

11,000 View Brawl After Cycle Heroics

Two Hell's Angels were hurt and ten others routed by furious motorcycle fans at the Cow Palace after daredevil stunt rider Evel Knievel first jumped 11 automobiles with his motorcycle, then punched a member of the Hell's Angel motorcycle club in the face.

An estimated 11,000 persons witnessed Knievel's world-record-setting feat and about 150 of them joined Knievel's reaction to being thrown at or otherwise being hindered during his jump by Hell's Angels, according to Daly City police.

Delayed in his jump for some 45 minutes because of a broken cycle chain, Knievel told his audience motorcycle gangs were tarnishing the image of motorcycle sports.

Then, as Knievel roared along, bent on breaking his own indoor record for distance jumping, a man wearing a Hell's Angel's jacket but otherwise unidentified either threw some object at Knievel or jumped out in front of the rider — police were not certain which.

Police said Knievel completed his jump, rode his cycle to where the Hell's Angel stood, flopped the bike and belted him.

This triggered the crowd, police said, and many poured onto the floor. For about ten minutes some 150 fans were involved in fights with the Hell's Angels, who were escorted to safety by Daly City police.

Taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises and minor head injuries were Richard Smith of 101 Los Banos, Daly City, and Joseph Sanchez of San Jose.

After being escorted out of the Cow Palace by police, the other Angels quickly went to the hospital to see their injured comrades. Several of those who attacked the Angels called United Press International later.

They refused to be identified but said "The Angels ruined the scene at Altamont and they ruined things again tonight. They're a bunch of phonies."

The Altamont reference was to a December 6 Rolling Stones rock concert attended by 300,000 persons. The Angels were hired to guard the stage and a member of the group allegedly killed another youth.

Daly City Police Sgt. Ralph Warren and Broadmoor Police patrolman Walt Krizman were at Mary's Help Hospital last night — Warren with two victims of the Cow Palace disturbance; Krizman on a matter from his own jurisdiction.

Both lawmen were standing, talking and drinking coffee with a "girl Hell's Angel," to quote Warren.

At one point during their conversation, the girl tugged at the top of her trousers and, Warren said, a 32-caliber revolver plunged down the pantsleg to the floor.

And it was loaded.

Mary Elizabeth Poummer, 20, of 1140 Lighthouse, Monterey, was taken into custody on charges of possessing a concealed weapon and possessing a loaded weapon.

North County Damage In High Winds

High winds did most of the damage in Friday's storm, which struck hardest at the North County.

Several roofs were damaged in Pacifica, a fireman was nearly blown away during a roof repair job and a large billboard was blown over in Daly City.

Pacifica Fire Captain James (Babe) Evans said the force of the wind lifted him off his feet and moved him some four feet while he was atop a Pacifica garage.

Evans and fireman Bob Rosemont were covering a gaping hole—about 35 by 25 feet—in the garage roof of the LeRoy Goodwin residence at 623 Miller.

They had been there or some time, since about 6:05 p.m., and already had nailed lath over plastic covering when a gust of wind not only whisked the material, lath and all, out from under the two firemen, but—according to Evans—picked up all of his 235 pounds as he knelt, and set him down about four feet away, on the roof.

Did Rosemont make the special "trip?"

No. Evans reasoned that Rosemont was lower on the roof and the wind was unable to gust beneath him.

The firemen were unable to cover that hole. When the 40-foot piece of covering blew away, "that's when we decided we were losing," Evans said today.

Pacifica's firemen had two other roof problems. Water was leaking in at 808 Sereno, where a small patch of roofing blew away. The firemen covered that hole.

And this morning at 7:30, they were called to 736 Lundy, after the owner there discovered his garage full of water and without a roof.

Firemen also answered seven different calls related to fallen wires, and Evans noted that the east Sharp Park area was without electricity "for a couple of hours."

Foster and Kleiser, the large sign company that announced Friday a decision to remove, along with another sign firm, some 105 billboards from several San Francisco sectors, has one less in Daly City as well today.

The large signboard at Geneva and Old Bayshore, in Daly City, toppled in the strong winds at 8:20 p.m. yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fulgham were driving by when the sign fell. The Fulghams, San Pablo residents, received cuts when the billboard struck their car.

Taken to Mary's Help Hospital the Fulghams were treated and released.

A power line also was broken.

Elsewhere in Daly City, a light standard blew over at 19 Mayfield Drive at 8:40 p.m., and a large plate-glass window blew out at the Volvo dealership at 6601 Mission Street.

High water calls kept street department personnel on the go, the authorities said.

South San Francisco and San Bruno fire and police departments reported they had no storm calls, though they noted water departments were busy.

Biafra Drug Committee To Disband

The Bay Area Drug Committee To Save Biafran Children is going out of business after sending an estimated $1,500,000 worth of medicines and medical equipment to Biafra in the past year.

Mrs. Nancy Pedro Da La Sol, president of the committee, which has headquarters at San Bruno, has asked the public to stop sending contributions, and physicians to stop sending sample medicines or equipment. The committee will expire in the next two months.

The president said the purpose of the committee was to collect sample medicines and equipment from physicians and pharmaceutical houses, send them to certain pharmacists to pack and then to an airline to ship to relief agencies. A benefit at the Fillmore West last September raised $8,000.

"Our interests were strictly humanitarian," said the president. "We sent only pharmaceuticals and surgical dressings and purchased them on the West Coast to insure that the monies would not be utilized for anything other than pharmaceuticals.

Developer Withdraws Rezoning Petition Pending Study By S.S.F. Planners

Developer Tom Callan Jr. Wednesday withdrew his petition requesting rezoning of an approximate 2 acres in South San Francisco's Westborough - West Park section on condition the city's planning people study the general plan for other commercial zoning possibilities.

City Planner Dan Pass, who has in the past been vehemently opposed to over commercialization, concurred with Callan's desires. But in agreeing with Callan, Pass stipulated that "nothing will be recommended that will increase the commercial average. The study will have to do with distribution."

A unanimous vote in favor of the recommendation by the councilmen also included two other stipulations by Pass. These being that money be put aside to defray the cost of hiring a planning consultant for the study and that a citizen's committee of residents in the area be included in making the study.

City Manager Tom McKenzie said $3,000 will be set aside from the city's contingency reserve fund for consultant fees.

In making his move to withdraw the application, Callan said that "in the past three-to-four years this application has gathered much misconception and political overtones."

Pass said, "Our office has protested all recommendations for additional commercial rezoning. Over commercialization is deadening, demeaning and tears the guts out of any community.

"But the planning department has never maintained that a developer be made to take a loss," continued Pass. "If it is withdrawn, we will study the acreage once again to see if there is some way to protect Callan's interest — if it can be done without creating extra commercial acreage."

Westpark Homeowners Association representative Don Gamma, a constant critic of Callan's attempts at commercial rezoning, wasn't too appeased.

"The council should have denied the request," said Gamma. "Callan is withdrawing his petition because he sees that he's in trouble. He has three pieces of property and is willing to wait for commercialization. This property would be good for homes, apartments, a small park—anything but more commercialization. The longer he waits, the more its worth grows."

During the council's study session Wednesday afternoon, City Attorney John Noonan reviewed a five-page report he had prepared on the history of the planned community.

She Wanted To Go, But San Bruno Man Says No

Charles J. Mozzetti, 24, of 356 San Bruno Avenue, San Bruno, was arrested by San Bruno police on Friday on charges that he interfered with a police officer.

A spokesman for the San Bruno Police Department said they had received a call from the Mozzetti address that a woman, identified as Carol Buffington, 21, wanted an ambulance to take her to a hospital.

Police and an ambulance responded, but, authorities said, Mozzetti wouldn't let stewards put the Buffington woman in the vehicle, and generally interferred with the officers as well. Why did the woman need the ambulance?

"She just didn't feel right," the police source said.

Lone Bandit Robs Bruno Market

A lone masked bandit got away with an undetermined amount of money Thursday from a San Bruno retail grocery store.

Harry W. Pfeifer, assistant manager of Pacific Markets, 1900 Monterey Dr., reported the robbery shortly after 10:30 p.m.

Police said the suspect walked into the nearly empty store, stuck a .45-caliber pistol into the victim's back and grabbed for the bills in the cash register. He left through a back fire exit at the rear of the shopping mall.

Pfeifer described the suspect as a white male 15-to-18-year-old juvenile with dark hair.

S.S.F. District Not Dropping Courses

Dr. Paul Nielsen, superintendent of the South San Francisco Unified School District, has denied reports that the district is trying to kill the Adult Night Education program by invoking a "resident-only" requirement.

"We are just complying with the law which requires that residents outside of the district obtain inter-district permits," stated Nielsen.

Some confusion reigned on January 19 as the new semester opened, with groups of disgruntled adults mingling about the administration building after learning that they didn't qualify for the adult program.

Nielsen dispelled rumors which stated that the new ruling would eventually dissolve the program. "We have no intention of eliminating our adult night education program, but we cannot afford to accomodate residents from other districts without receivving extra aid from the county or state," he noted.

"It was simply a matter of economics and of equity to our taxpayers," Nielsen further stated. "Our budget," he continued, "was cut some $527,000 and actually we only trimmed the adult night school budget by $50,000 — which is less than 10 per cent."

The South San Francisco Adult night program, acknowledged as the most comprehensive in the county, has a "disproportionate number of people from outside the district attending" according to Nielsen.

Nielsen also expressed surprise at the sudden concern over the cutback in admissions. "This is not a new issue. Our board took action December 15 and it has been prominently announced since that date," he added.

Many of the people present Monday night have been in the program for over four years and were looking forward to another semester of educational activity.

Nielsen said that an increase in registration fees wouldn't even begin to cover the expenses of the comprehensive program.

In the meantime, Nielsen said that the only way a non-resident of the district could become eligible for the program is through applying for an inter-district permit from the district of their residence.

The resident-only ruling is expected to effect over half of the night school attendance.

Burglary Wave In D.C.

Daly City police were still reeling this morning from the wave of burglaries that hit the city over the past two-day weekend.

Practically no section of the city escaped the blitz.

Even the fire department's Central Station was sacked while firefighters were busy answering an alarm on Brunswick street at 9:21 Sunday night.

Upon their return, the burgrary was discovered.

A spokesman said several firefighting coats and helmets had been taken, but the exact figure had not yet been determined. Three coats and two helmets were found discarded near the station.

Other victims of the weekend rampage were:

—The Clara Owens estate at 433 San Diego. Three juveniles were arrested by police at the scene and sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center after they ripped boards off the windows of the vacant building and forced their way inside.

—Leo Mayer, of 442 Price Street, reported burglars forced open his front door and stole some $500 in cash and two diamond rings. Total loss not determined.

—Blanche Rohlapp, 677 Orange Street, lost a collection of foreign coins, transistor radio, watches and $150 in cash. Total loss not determined.

—Donald Hagenbeck, 162 Los Olivos Street, lost his pants containing his wallet, credit cards and money when burglars pried open a window. The pants were recovered outside the house, however the wallet and other items were taken, police said.

—Gloria Tucker, 1 Battleship Road, lost a television set, assorted chinaware, lamps, artifacts and oil paintings when burglars ransacked her home after entering through a rear window.

—Angela G. Paris, 487 St. Francis Boulevard is attempting to determine her loss after burglars forced open a front door.

—Jack J. Tuisto, 226 Canyon Drive, report the loss of two television sets and assorted frozen meat from his freezer. He estimated the loss at $215. In this burglary, entry was made by prying open a second-story window, police said.

Pacifican Sentenced For Robbery

A construction worker who escaped from custody following his arrest in Pacifica on robbery and car theft charges was sentenced January 20 to state prison.

In a statement submitted to the court the defendant, George T. Schroeder, 37, of San Francisco, blamed his troubles with the law on a heavy drinking problem. His record dates back to 1953.

Schroeder and Helen Elizabeth Maynard, 47, were arrested September 9 after they allegedly took $48, some jewelry, liquor and other articles from the Pacifica apartment of Richard Persich, a retired seaman, and made off in Persich's car.

Schroeder and another county jail inmate, Dennis Ralph Williams, 26, escaped from deputies at County General Hospital January 2. Schroeder was arrested in San Francisco on the following day after his involvement in an armed robbery. Williams is still at large.

Schroeder subsequently pleaded guilty to charges of burglary and auto theft.

Mrs. Maynard pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of stolen property and is scheduled to be sentenced next Tuesday.

Crestmoor Grad Honor

Crestmoor High graduate Roger Dills was chosen by Pasadena College as a representative to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Dills, a member of the class of '66, majored in history at the Southern California College. He was Circle K president, recipient of a PC scholarship, and winner of the La Sierra Service Award.

He also was a member of Sigma Phi Mu Honor Society, sophomore vice president, and member of the varsity wrestling squad.

Little SSF Girl Killed

A four-year-old South San Francisco girl was killed Saturday afternoon when struck by a passing car near her home.

Police said Lisa Delucchi, daughter of Philip Delucchi, Jr., of 2520 Turnberry Drive, a South San Francisco fireman, was dead on arrival at Kaiser Hospital.

According to police the victim ran out into the street in front of a car driven by Warren Clement, 64, of 2586 Turnberry Drive, San Bruno. He was traveling southbound in the 2500 block of Turnberry Drive.

Psychologist Classification Is Questioned

The Jefferson Union High School District, serving Daly City and Pacifica, doesn't like the idea that its three psychologists and two work experience program men are classified by the state as "administrative personnel."

Assistant district superintendent for personnel, Dr. Harold C. Tononi, told Robert J. Cleno of the State Department of Education as much recently.

Dr. Tonini was submitting his "district report of administrative-non-administrative personnel required by Education Code 13252.5" at the time of his comment.

The report stated that there was a reduction in administrative services per se, but an increase of one nurse to accommodate a new school, 3.8 part-time counselors due to a reduction of full-time counselors, and 2.4 department head due to growth and a formula change requested by the teachers.

Dr. Tonini pointed out, however, that "it has been the philosophy of this district" to use part-time counselors vs. full-time and to furnish a nurse for each of our comphrehensive schools.

"Further," Dr. Tonini said, "It is difficult to accept that our three psychologists are considered administrative personnel when their main function is working with disturbed youngsters either on a one-to-one basis or in a group situation."

He said the "same is true of two work experience personnel who work directly with youngsters either in placement and-or on-the-job supervision and are responsible for grade reporting for these students.

Active Month Is Scheduled At Skyline

February may be the shortest month on the calendar . . . but for Skyline College it will be one of the most active periods if the schedule of events is any indicator of things to come.

Starting off with the opening of the Spring semester on Monday, February 2, the new college's activity slate has more than twenty-five (25) "happenings" for the students, faculty, and San Mateo and Bay Area residents.

Highlighting the big fare is the Community Education four-part series "What's Ahead in Asia" on Tuesday evenings February 3-10-17-24 at 8 p.m. in the Main Theater.

The play "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde will be presented on two consecutive weekends of Thursday-Friday-Saturday, February 19-20-21 and Feb. 26-27-28 by the college's drama department at 8:15 p.m. in the Studio Theater.

House Hit After Crash

The side of the Elmer Haug home at 200 Los Banos in Daly City was damaged on Friday after one of two cars involved in a nearby intersection collision veered off the roadway.

Daly City police said Jerry L. B. Korde, 24, of 361 Peoria Street, Daly City, was driving west on Los Banos at 11 p.m., when his car collided with a vehicle operated by Deabner Lacy, 44, of 76 Santa Cruz, who was northbound on San Diego Avenue.

The impact of the crash sent the Lacy vehicle out of control and it smashed into the Haug home.

Boy Swipes City Vehicle

It's all over but the laughing.

A 15-year-old boy successfully stole a city vehicle right out from under the noses of the Daly City Police Department about 9:30 Wednesday night.

And to add insult to injury the boy was arrested by Broadmoor policeman Walter Krizman before Daly City even knew the official car had been taken from the adjacent parking lot.

Krizman spotted the youth driving along the 400 block of Eighty-ninth Avenue— less than two blocks from the police department — and stopped him for a routine traffic check.

Thief Steals $400 In Coins

A two-bit burglar, who is obviously a hypochondriac to boot, broke into the Daly City home of Louis La Torre Wednesday night and stole $400 in quarters and a variety of pills from the family medicine cabinet.

Entry to the LaTorre's Palmdale Avenue home was through a rear basement door, police said.

Also taken in the burgary was a tape recorder and camera. Total loss was estimated at $1,100.

BRIGADE DUTIES

U.S. ARMY, Vietnam — Army Sergeant Dennis R. Burnett, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. Burnett, 480 Sierra Pt. Road, Brisbane, was assigned December 8 to the 199th Light Infantry Brigade in Vietnam.

His wife, Christine, lives at 480 Sierra Pt. Road.

Chases Youths Away From Car

Two youths tried to steal his small foreign car, but he chased them away, Norman Domino, 19, of Palo Alto, told Daly City police yesterday.

Domino said his vehicle was parked at the Serramonte Shopping Center when he noted two youths — one described as between 15 and 17 years of age, the other 18 or 20 years old — attempting to "steal" his car.

He chased the pair, but the suspects outran him.

Ah, Life – Used To Be So Simple In Sport Loops

By LE PACINI

AH, LIFE used to be so simple, in the days of two eight-team major baseball leagues and two six team pro football leagues and two five-team big time pro basketball leagues. In those days it was so easy to be a sports expert.

Why, we remember when we could name the starting lineups and basic pitching staffs of every team in the major baseball leagues, and even the base coaches . . . and in some cases virtually the entire rosters. We were also as good in pro football, especially when they had those "little" 33 man rosters.

But now it's almost impossible to be an expert, what with two major baseball leagues split into four six-team divisions, two major football leagues split into six divisions, four of four teams and two of five teams (not to mention 40-man rosters), and two major basketball leagues of seven teams each.

Starting lineups, rosters, coaches? Hell, here's one "expert" who isn't ashamed to say that he's not even sure what cities are in what divisions — indeed, what leagues — anymore! The cry of the stadium vendor of the '70s will not be, "You can't tell the player without a program," but, "You can't tell the city without a program."

WE'RE SURE that this next item isn't going to settle the ancient argment about which sports requires the most athletic skill, but it's something to ponder. When Tom Seaver was recently named top Male Athlete of the Year, it marked the fifth consecutive season, the eighth year of the last nine, and the 17th time since the award's inception in 1931 that a baseball player has been named.

Closest competitor is football, with eight "namings," but one of their guys (Hopalong Cassidy) hasn't been named since '55 — and HE was a college player.

After that comes track and golf, four each, boxing and tennis twice (Don Budge got tennis on the lists single-handedly, in 1937-38) and swimming, once (Don Schollander). Track and football have to share one vote, because Bob Mathias was named in '52 on the basis of his participation in both sports.

TAG END: After all these years, they're finally recognizing the talent of 49er cornerback Jimmy Johnson. He was recently handed another accolade to add to his suddenly growing list, when he was named to the second team of the Pro Football Hall of Fame all-pro team (this one includes both leagues), the only 49er to get a tumble.

Rams Still Unbeaten In NPL; Tigers Lose

The luck of the Irish is riding with the green-clad Westmoor Rams and with that backing it's easy to see why they reside atop the North Peninsula League standings.

For the second game in a row, Dave Riley took over the offensive chores for Tony Giammona's 5-0 team, rallied his club from apparent defeat and kept the rest of the chasers at least a one-game handicap.

In other league action, South San Francisco outlasted Terra Nova, 72-61, Jafferson bot by Half Moon Bay, 7368, and Oceana bested Serramonte, 65-53.

Trailing for nearly three complete quarters, the Rams came back behind Riley and Jim Lewis and took their first lead at 40-39 after Riley had hit an outside shot, a layin, a free throw and another driving shot for a seven-point binge.

Tom Buckley, who scored 18 for the Colts, did an effective job of stopping Westmoor's Brad Quanstrom with just 11 points but an aggressive Camino defense also got the Colts in trouble. Westmoor got 28 free throws to Camino's eight but the Rams returned the favor by hitting just 12 of the 28.

Forward Pete Saco out on fouls at the start ofthe fourth and Camino fell further behind against Westmoor's faster-than-usual offensive attack.

With South San Francisco it's almost always been a case of "Too Much — Too Soon" this year as the Warriors gallantly try to stay within striking distance of first place.

Bill Purcell's team shot right ahead of Terra Nova, 33-9, but frittered away most of that lead in the second half before emerging with the 11-point win. Forward Jim Housman, only 510, scored his personal high of 32 points, 20 in that frantic first half. Penetrating deep into the TN defense, Housman hit his soft jumpers with relative ease to fire the Warriors way ahead.

But the Tigers switched to a zone defense in the second period and began closing the gap. Guard Bob McClure began sinking his shots from medium range, center Bud Papadakis and Jeff Wellimeyer hit the boards over the smaller Warriors and twice the Tigers closed to within four.

Housman and Gene Mackey, off the bench for a solid floor game, got things moving after both TN spurts and SSF won going away. It was Purcell's 101st victory since becoming SSF's coach in 1963.

Camino Hangs In NPL Game To Defeat Sharks By 38-37

With point spreads that often approach, and even surpass, 50 points or more it isn't often a defensive game shows up in the North Peninsula League.

One did Wednesday afternoon when El Camino hung on in the final minute to defeat Oceana, 38-37. Two other afternoon contests, however, scored a few more points as South San Francisco won a 94-42 verdict over novice Serramonte and Terra Nova outlasted a tired Half Moon Bay five, 72-60.

Camino held a three-point lead with one minute to go but Steve Crocenzi stole a pass, a raced downcourt for a lay-in and was fouled intentionally for an additional two free throw attempts. He missed the tries but Oceana, now down 36-35, rebounded and Tom Harper sank a 10-foot jumper with 15 seconds left putting the Sharks up, 37-36.

The Colts worked the ball around, failed at penetrating the middle and forward Pete Saco threw up a desperation shot with four seconds left. He was fouled on the arm, missed the shot but sank the two free throws for the win.

Oceana, now 1-3, has lost its last two games by a total of three points.

As is the case with any new school Serramonte has a few growing pains to go through before it will be ready for even NPL play. South City, with the substitutes doing virtually all the damage, outscored the new league entries, 24-2, in the third period to blast a huge cap in the scoring.

Jim Housman garnered 18 for the Warriors while sub Mike Drake added 15 more. Ten SSF'ers scored, while no Serramonte player could crack the two-figure barrier.

Terra Nova's tall Tigers finally wore out a game Cougar five with rebounding and pressing as guard Bob McClure led the offense with 22 points. Dale Seis led the game scoring with 24 for the losers.

Wally Kleveshal Secures Wrestling Win For Rams

Ram unlimited wrestler, Wally Klevesahl, defeated his Jefferson opponent, Hurwitz, in the meet's final mat, to secure Westmoor a 29-22 varsity team victory last Wednesday.

Ram firefly, 95 pound Harold Lorber, pinned Jeff's Castrillo in 27 seconds, to gain five quick points. Two matches later, after Westmoor's Morales (103) and Neilsen (112) were defeated by Jeff's 103-pound Moss and 112-pound Wheeler, 120-pound Blake decisioned Indian grappler Wheeler, 13-1, to restore confidence to Westmoor's bench.

Tim Denning edged his Jefferson adversary, Vanoover, 2-1, in the 133-pound division, after 127-pound ram grapper Dovorak was decisioned by Jeff's Huertas.

Jeff scored six points when Norman (W-138) was decisioned by Pinlack (J) and Jeff's O'Neil scored a big upset by decisioning previously undefeated Ross Dove 10-1 in the 145-pound division.

Ram Larry Reeves (154 pounds) pinned Winding in the first round, to reduce the Jeff lead by 1.

The Ram "heavyweights" turned the tables as 165-pound Katz beat Shelton and Bill Block pinned Armossilo, to gain eight points for Westmoor. This put the score at Westmoor 24, Jefferson 17 — with two matches remaining.

Jeff's Van Hauter then pinned Westmoor's Bosetti and unlimited wrestlers Wally Klevesahl (W) and Hurwitz (J), hit the mats.

Ram Frosh-Soph Unit Victorious

Playing their toughest opponent of the season, the Westmoor Rams frosh-soph basketball team displayed a strong offense and a fast moving zone defense to run over the Jefferson Indians, 49-41.

The big reason was the defense put on Jeff's all-league hopeful, Ken Smith, who had 15 of his 17 points in the first half, but was stopped in the latter stages by a stagging zone defense, which forced Jeff to resort to outside shooting. That is the specialty of Jerry Viado, who tallied 10 points.

Millbrae Bowl

Gentry Got His '300'; —An Opportune Time

San Bruno bowler Jim Gentry finally got his sanctioned 300 game, and it couldn't have come at a more opportune time.

The 24-year-old kegler, who has been bowling for eight years, culminated a record-breaking series with the perfect game at the Millbrae Bowl January 19.

Ironically, Gentry nearly had two 300 games and a whopping 835 series instead of his all-time high Millbrae Bowl series of 825. In the first game Gentry, who packs an impressive 187 average, left the ten pin standing in the first frame. He then fired a spare and proceeded to roll 11 straight strikes for a 290 game.

In the second game he came back with a 235 game and then tacked on the 300 score to set the new series standard. Though rolling two other 300 games in his career, Gentry's previous high in sacntioned play was a 289 and a 750 series.

VERSATILE College of San Mateo tailback Mike Chiurco of San Bruno, who led the Golden Gate Conference in passing, is congratulated by CSM team queen Beth Mitchell after being voted most valuable player by teammates and receiving JC All-America recognition. Other Bulldog award winners included quarterback John Lucia of South San Francisco (most improved), tackels Mike Stewart of San Mateo defensive trophy) and Jose Molale of Half Moon Bay (most inspirational).

"WELCOME"—John Cannon, left, is welcomed to Daly City as new recreation department supervisor in charge of teen activities' advisor by recreation department Supervisor Ed Tomasselo. Cannon, starting work this week, has been with the Oakland Recreation Department. He graduated from California State College, Hayward, majoring in recreation. (Post Photo)

Thursday was "freedom time" for the Burlingame Panthers. And substitute coach Bob Milano would like to forget it.

Playing without the disciplining hand of Frank Bettendorf, they cavorted to a 56-44 victory over winless Crestmoor, thus keeping alive their Mid-Peninsula League title hopes.

Bettendorf left after the death of his father late Wednesday night. At eleven yesterday morning Milano, the Panthers' baseball coach, was told he would fill in. Milano had once coached the Panther frosh-soph.

"We played pretty much the same game in frosh-soph that he does in varsity," Milano said, "so he asked me to try it and see how it worked out. But Bettendorf can have basketball."

Of course it could have been worse. The Panthers took control with the opening tip, throwing a full-court press at the Falcons that strangled the visitors all right. At the end of the quarter it was 16-9, and the game pattern had been set.

"Frank likes to press a team early, to see if they can be had," Milano explained. "They could, and we kept it up."

The Falcons got fine individual efforts from senior guard Jerry Barclay, whose 16 markers were high for the game, and senior center Ralph Bingham, whose cross-court passes and bottom-of-the-key defense kept the score respectable.

But the press was too much. The harried Falcons' floor shooting percentage plummeted, and the Panther front line of Craig Healy, Ray Rotolo and Steve Kircher was able to control the game.

The three split most of the Panthers' total between them: Kircher with 15, Healy with 14 and Rotolo with 13.

Milano won, and Burlingame, with a 3-2 league record, is still barely in the MPL race, but the sub mentor was far from satisfied.

"They played well at times and very poorly at others," he said. "I've seen them this year and they're usually a lot better disciplined than they were tonight. I guess with me out there they kind of figured it was freedom time, and they played very loosely."

Basketball? "I don't like it," Milano said, but he was smiling at the time.

The Neutral Corner

By JERRY LITTRELL

A DECISION EXPECTED to be reached sometime this week on the naming of a new varsity football coach at Crestmoor High School to replace Craig Brown who, according to principal George Kristovich, is "being reassigned to a different, yet undetermined, coaching position starting with the 1970 football season."

As is always the case in this type of situation, numerous candidates are reportedly being interviewed for the job of building the Falcons into a representative Mid-Peninsula League grid squad. However, it is fairly certain that the new coach will be named from a list of five local coaches all reportedly interested in the head-man job.

They are: Bob Sexton, ex-head coach at El Camino High School for numerous years who resigned last season to coach at the newly constructed Westborough Junior High School; Marv Ashby, Ray DeJong's top assistant during South San Francisco's powerhouse years in football who also resigned last year to take an administrative position at the same Westborough Junior High School; Ernie Baber, an assistant football and wrestling coach for the Falcons; Phil Phalen, former football coach and presently lightweight basketball and golf coach at Crestmoor; and John Browne, an assistant football and track coach at Burlingame High School.

There has been a noticeable lack of athletic prowess at Crestmoore, that's really no secret. Such an unfortunate happening cannot and should not be bamed on one or two people or even a group of individuals. We have personally observed the rather devil-may-care attitude prevalent with many athletes in many schools like Crestmoor.

As many coaches have observed over long, hard seasons, it takes a little time to learn how to win, to learn how to lose that defeatist spirit. Let a a school win just one championship and it's fairly certain that school will never be consistent cellar-dwellers from then on. Winning can become a habit, you know? Not titles every year but representative teams in every sport.

When the new grid coach is appointed it will mean that Crestmoor will have new, head mentors in football, baseball and basketball all in the past year. Ralph Daniels took over the cage squad this year and Terry Christman, who left a super-sophmore team at Serramonte to join the San Bruno school will launch his varsity career next month for the Falcons.

Times could be looking up for Crestmoor.

"IT'S ABOUT TIME," is the only comment we can make after hearing that the Central Coast Section big-wigs, often lovingly referred to as Athletes Anonymous, finally gave a nod of their ancient heads to the formation of a Northern California prep basketball tournament.

The Geritol-Set of athletic administrators have at long last accomplished something in a positive direction. Up until now, California Interscholastic Federation, the parent organization of the CCS has recognized the need of state-wide competition in only track and field.

It's quite an incentive for runners and weightmen from the SPAL, MPL and NPL to have such an honored competition to strive towards after a long season. The same will be true when this NorCal playoff is set up. If everything goes right there is an outside chance such a tourney could be held by the end of next basketball season, 1971.

The two most responsible for getting this tourney off the ground are Lick-Wilmerding coach Dan Fukushima and Leigh (San Jose) principal Stewart Fowler. It apparently will be up to these two and-or any committee they might form to scour the state and hopefully get committments from members in each of the seven CCS sections.

Right now they are talking about inviting the CCS champion, the Berkeley Tournament of Champions winner, the Fresno-located Valley Playoff champs and the Camellia City, (Sacramento) Tournament titlists to the affair.

With the blessings from On High neatly tucked away, league and section officials can get on to more important details like location, times, dates and teams.

As an added plus factor last week, the NCAA gave approval to a Prep All-Star basketball classic which would involve the 10 best graduated seniors from Northern California against their counterparts from Southern California in a summertime meeting. Sites for that game would be alternated each year from north to south.

It's really a shame that a state as large as California has taken so long to even get on the threshold of such post-season tournaments and All-Star games. Both are long overdue. Let's not waste the chance to make these two events a yearly function. Who knows? That grand championship tournament might someday evolve one step further — a California State Champion! Well, if one doesn't dream. . . .

ANY LOCAL BASEBALL TEAM that wishes to get into an Easter Week-type tournament can probably do so even at this late date. John Swett High School in Crockett sponsors such an event and has two openings still left in the 1970 pairings.

Each team that enters is guaranteed threee games. The dates for competition are March 21, 23 and 25. Any interested coaches can contact Mal Deeker, JHSH coach, Hurry. though, this offer is limited.

Fee Increase To 'Destroy' Golf Teams

Action by the San Francisco Recreation and Park Commission to increase student fees on its golf course in the Sharp Park region of Pacifica, could destroy the student golf teams of Ocean and Oceana and Terra Nova High Schools, according to Jefferson Union High School Supt. Edward D. Morgan.

Morgan expressed that view in a letter to the chairman of the San Francisco body, Walter Shorenstein.

"The action taken by the commission will, in my opinion, destroy the golf teams of the two high schools, since our youngsters and their apparents cannot afford the new fees," Morgan asserted.

"You and the commission I know are dedicated to programs aimed at 'taking youngsters off the street.' In my opinion the commission's recent action, particularly as it affects your students and ours, is contrary to such a program," he added.

Morgan asked the commission to reconsider its "drastic increase" in the student fees.

Crestmoor Matmen Win

Crestmoor grapplers had a field day at Capuchino Thursday. Its three squads outpointed Cap 127-24.

Bob Littlefield started it off for the Falcons in the 95 pound class, keeping his undefeated season intact with a pin in just 13 seconds. Bruce Stevens took a bit longer in the 191 pound match—5:43—but hung on to win his first varsity match with a pin and Chris Hazen, in the 175 pound class, kept his MPL undefeated string intact.

The Falcon varsity won 33-13, the frosh-soph 46-8, and the reserves 48-3.

Stopped In Daly City

'Munich Or Bust' For Cyclist

By FRANK LaPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

While thousands of people from around the world are planning to attend the Olympics in Munich, Germany, in 1972, a personable Japanese youth has already begun the lengthy journey — on his bicycle.

Motomitsu Ikemoto stopped off in Daly City last week to chat with members of the Host Lions' Club en route to the games still two years and some 30,000 miles away.

The spunky 22-year-old native of Nara, Japan, has been on the go since August, 1968, when he packed everything but the kitchen sink on his eight-speed "Matsushita" bike and pedaled off to see the world.

With the trip halfway behind him, Ikemoto is finding out just how big this world really is.

He has actually pedalled more than 17,800 miles through Okinawa, Taiwan (Formosa); Hong Kong, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, and the United States.

Time spent aboard steamers and trains doesn't count, he said.

While in Australia, Ikemoto met Eddie Edwards, president of Lions District 201A in South Port, Queensland. The pair became immediate friends and Edwards wrote a letter of introduction that opened doors around the globe for the youth.

Ikemoto's livelihood depends on his ingenuity and he has done everything from manual labor to selling photographs of Japan during his journey.

The destination of the ambitious youth is actually secondary, he confessed, explaining that he was carrying the message of "International Peace and Brotherhood" to all nations he visited.

On the front cover of a scrapbook he carries, Ikemoto has inscribed in bold letters "Unite Mankind Through Lionism."

Both messages reflect Ikemoto's feelings.

Asked how American youths compare with those in Japan, the son of a machinist, reasoned America's youth had "too much free time."

He had trouble figuring out modern-day students in both nations, but was quick to slap hippies.

They've turned away from society in order to avoid their military obligations, among other things," Ikemoto said.

Ikemoto considers hippies to be "social dropouts" who really aren't doing anything bad "but they aren't doing anything good either."

"It would be a better world if youth today would set a goal for themselves and stick to it, rather than the hippy way of avoiding life," he said.

In all his travels, the cyclist has been sick only once.

Pedalling across the Rockies in Colorado he was downed by the flu bug, but was back on the road within three days.

Ikemoto arrived in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, last May and pedalled down to Seattle. Next a ferry trip to Juneau, Alaska, and across Canada via the Trans-Canada Highway.

Compared to Canada, Ikemoto's ride across the United States from New England to Daly City was a snap.

When it is all over, Ikemoto will have spent seven years on the road (and ocean); travelled through 100 countries; left more than 60,000 miles of memories behind and countless friends.

His local host, Todd Kamiya, a member of the Nikkei Lions Club in San Francisco, said Ikemoto would next head for Los Angeles, covering 50-75 miles a day.

At each major city along the way, Ikemoto checks with the Japanese consulate and picks up his mail.

There were 30 letters awaiting his arrival in San Francisco—nine from his parents urging him to give up his "madness and come home."

But Ikemoto writes back and tells them of his next stop.

His last letter informed them he would write just as soon as he reached the next major stop—Brazil.

North County Bowling Activity

Daly City's Jan Riney, 21, has come a long way since she started bowling 11 years ago at Westlake Bowl.

The former junior champion has risen to the top in local competition and recently placed first in the fifth annual Queens Tournament, qualifying at Westlake by averaging a sizzling 205 in the San Francisco Women's Bowling Association event.

In addition, she bowls in men's leagues at both Westlake and Castle Lanes, while leading major women's leagues in the Bay Area. Recently she teamed with Vesma Grinfelds, a 19-year-old, who is the leading girl bowler nationally in junior ranks, to capture the regional Youth Bowling Association Family Doubles Tournament.

JAN RINEY

Miss Riney was upset in the Queens tournament last Sunday by another Daly City product. Sandy Howard, a transplanted new Yorker, edged Jan and then went on to capture the tournament by rolling a 224 finishing game against Neva Runningwolf, member of the U.S. team in international competition.

Miss Riney shot a 659 series and Miss Grinfelds, a 661 score.

Tournament action concludes this weekend at Serra Bowl for over 750 bowlers in the San Francisco Bowling Association's twelfth annual League Officers Singles Tournament. The Bay Area's top bowlers will be on view at the Colma lanes.

The ladies will be in abundance at Serra Bowl in the following weeks. A learn-to-bowl clinic opened yesterday on the lanes and another one is starting tomorrow with free instruction, shoes and bowling balls offered. The establishment has a fully staffed nursery to park the youngsters in during the clinics.

Dan Mattrocce, a 15-year-old Saint Ignatius sophomore, has scored high at Westlake but recently he gained an exceptional honor. The 134 average bowler picked up the Big Four Split, with statistics showing 10,000 to 1 odds against a pickup.

The junior star at Westlake for the week though is Raymond Ng, a 19-year-old student who three years ago was averaging 117. Ng now carries a 198 average and rolled a sizzling 707 series with a 269 high game in the Kings & Queens League.

Sandy Martin, a night owl at Bear Photo's, will be showing offer her triplicate patch to teammates on the Holy Angels after shooting three straight games at Serra Bowl.

In the Pins Over Average Tournament on the Colma Lanes, Frank Debarber shot 97 pins over in the 875 Scratch League and left a solid nine pin in the ninth to miss a 300 game. He scored 279.

WILLIAM R. COSTELLO

Macy Store Manager Will Retire

William R. Costello, vice president and store manager of Macy's Serramonte in Daly City, will retire April 1 after 43 years with O'Connor Moffatt and Macy's.

Costello, a native San Franciscan, began his career when Macy's was still O'Connor Moffat. Although he was graduated from Santa Clara University, attended Hastings Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1926, he decided on a retailing career, which he began that same year as a stock boy. He advanced rapidly and by 1936 was merchandise manager of home furnishings.

World War II found Costello with the naval carrier forces in the Pacific as a lieutenant commander.

After the war he returned to O'Connor Moffatt, which was now Macy's. Through the years Costello has held many important posts including buyer of toys, luggage and home furnishings, assistant store superintendent of Macy's San Francisco, store manager of Macy's San Rafael and finally store manager of Macy's Serramonte. He was made a vice president in 1969.

Costello, who is a member of the State Bar of California and the Rotary Club, lives with his wife, the former Barbara Knight of San Mateo, in Larkspur. The Costello's have two boys and two girls. Their oldest daughter Ellen Miller lives in San Mateo; their daughter Margaret, 17, is a junior at Marin Catholic High School. William Costello, Jr., is a stockbroker with Bateman, Eichler, Hill, Richards, Inc. Their youngest son, James, recently was graduated from San Jose State College.

ELMO FAMA has been promoted to assistant vice president and assistant manager of the San Bruno branch of Bank of America. Previously manager of the San Francisco airport branch, Fama replaces A. J. Simonetti, who has moved up to manager of the Burlingame branch.

Neighborhood Council Meets

The Daly City Neighborhood Council met recently at the Informational and Referral Center, under the leadership of David Salazar, president, to determine the needs of the people in the target area and to set priorities and projects for the forthcoming year.

The following committees were formed: education, housing, summer youth employment and community control.

The Neighborhood Council serves the community in seeking solutions in discrimination and poverty. Concerned organizations and agencies are represented by appointed positions and all meetings are open to the public.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY
Better Business Bureau

QUESTION: A salesman came to my door selling a fire alarm system. I am interested in buying a fire alarm system but would like to have more information first.

ANSWER: The National Better Business Bureau suggests that anyone interested in household fire protection systems should check with their local fire prevention officials on the effectiveness of the unit. Find out if local fire ordinances prohibit the device. Obtain a written statement that makes it clear whether or not the system detects smoke and fumes as well as heat and flames. If the alarm is on a rental basis, be careful about the automatic renewal clause or a clause that relieves the company from liability for service or maintenance.

QUESTION: A store keeps having sales the year around that stress percent off regular prices. Is this possible?

ANSWER: Americans love sales. For this reason retail stores advertise sales throughout the year on different items. When the sales are always on the same merchandise the year around something is phony. The true prices are no doubt the sale prices.

QUESTION: I see so many advertisements offering "free developing," "free vacations," "free wigs." What is the gimmick?

ANSWER: Free items of real worth are rare. Items are free if there are no costs or obligations other than the mailing cost, or if you buy an item and receive a second one for no added cost and no deceptive practice is involved. The word "free" cannot legally be used in advertising if the ordinary or actual cost of an item is increased . . . if the quality or quantity or size of an item is reduced . . . or if the offer is on a continuous basis.

QUESTION: I have been receiving literature about Vietnam Gift Paks from a San Diego company. Can you give me any information regarding this company.

ANSWER: A report from the San Diego Better Business Bureau advises the company was established in the fall of 1967 and that the principals in the firm are well and favorable known citizens. No derogatory information has been received on the firm.

QUESTION: I received literature from a tailor claiming to be from Hong Kong which contained the statement "Members of Better Business Bureau." Is there a BBB in Hong Kong?

ANSWER: There is no BBB in Hong Kong that is recognized by a BBB in the United States or is authorized to use the BBB name by the Association of Better Business Bureaus International.

Airlines Were Not Well Notified Of Noise Meet?

By GEORGE GOLDING

Last week's anti-noise meeting in South San Francisco was ignored by airlines, airport and county officials, said one, because they weren't properly contacted.

"The first thing we knew," said a well-informed source at San Francisco International Airport," was when we read in the papers that such a meeting was planned.

"Two weeks later, or so, we received notices in the mail.

"Even then, we were not provided copies of the report that was to be discussed, nor fully advised of the proposed content of the meeting."

In addition, he pointed out, the Airport Sound Abatement Committee has been in existence for years, and there has always been a standing invitation for officials or interested persons from any city, to attend.

Frank Mammini, South San Francisco councilman who called Monday's meeting, has not made a regular practice of attending the Sound Abatement meetings, the spokesman said.

South San Francisco councilmen complained Monday night when no spokesmen for the airport showed up, and none of the San Mateo County, or San Francisco County, supervisors.

Any city councilman, from any city, who wishes to "call" county supervisors to a meeting, might find a more delicate and personal way of contacting them, the spokesman said.

San Francisco County Supervisors are notably difficult to get out of San Francisco, and San Mateo County Supervisors

Burglary Charges Set

Burglary charges have been filed against three San Bruno teen-agers caught early on Monday inside an auto center business at 280 El Camino Real.

Booked were David H. Colliar, of 254 Carmel Dr., and brothers Frank J. and Ronald G. Oneto, of 356 Chapman Ave. Police said all three listed their age as 18.

At about 3 a.m. today Officer Frank Young noticed a broken window at the firm while on routine patrol. He called for assistance and went to check the damage.

According to the police, while Officer Young was near the window he saw a suspect inside the business. He held the suspect at bay through the window.

Further search of the premises turned up two other suspects hiding on a supply shelf.

Police said the window was broken when an automobile's master cylinder was thrown through it. A key to the firm's main office was found in the possession of one of the suspects.

The three suspects, who hid their car in the car-lineup of a used car lot, may, police say, be involved in the recent window damage incident with BB's.

Letterman Team Sees Warrior Play

The Lettermen Club from Southwood Junior High School held an outing recently. The members of the club travelled to San Francisco to see the Warriors play the New York Knickerbockers.

Robert Orialou, adviser to the club, stated that the opportunity to see this game came up suddenly, but 20 boys from the club went to the game and showed their spirit. At present, the club has no future outings planned.

The club is trying to secure tickets for a future Warrior's game and also a Seal's hockey game.

Appointments To New Commissions

Appointments to two new county commissions—an Arts Commission and a Commission on Aging—were approved this week by the County Board of Supervisors.
